CONG. WOOD TELLS PRES. HARDING WORLD COURT PLAN A MISTAKE

Declares Republican Opposition to Proposal Even Stronger Than That Against Entrance into League of Nations—Harding Refuses to Yield

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Expressing the belief that republican opposition to the administration world court membership proposal was even stronger than that against entrance into the League of Nations, Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana, chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, today told President Harding he believed it was a mistake for the party to urge the proposition. Mr. Wood's statement to the president constituted the first open opposition to Mr. Harding's proposal among republican leaders outside of the "irreconcilable" group of senators. Mr. Wood said afterward the president was not weakened in his advocacy of the proposal as outlined in the message to the senate just before adjournment of congress.

Native of the Himalayan Mountains is at the Fort Hill Zoo Again

The high stepping, roof scaling Himalayan goat, the property of the Lowell park department, that escaped from the wire enclosure at the Fort Hill zoo yesterday morning, was captured at Golden Cove park in Cheshamford at 6 o'clock in the afternoon and an hour later was back in his browsing place, apparently contented to remain there forever.

The chances are, however, that Polley, so called because of his similarity to the human fly, will remain in his restricted area whether he wants to or not, for this afternoon additional

PETER WILL BE MORE CAREFUL NEXT TIME

Fines of $75 for driving an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and $10 extra for operating without a license, were imposed on Peter Nicholas in the district court this morning as the result of an early morning crash at the corner of Central and Warren streets. Nicholas, according to the story told the court, was driving down Central street about 6:45 o'clock this morning and going at a rapid rate of speed. At Warren street, a Red sedan, driven by Miss Sophie Oert, 17, of Tewksbury, and having the right of way, attempted to turn in when Nicholas auto collided with it and caused an estimated damage of $100.

Miss Oert appeared on the witness stand and testified that she gave the proper signal when about to turn, but Nicholas failed to heed it and the speed of his machine made a collision inevitable. The defendant said he owned his car for about five weeks and had never applied for a license to operate.

COAKLEY WINS APPEAL

Suit by Meyer Berman

Transferred From Supreme Court to Superior Court

BOSTON, April 20.—Daniel H. Coakley, disbarred as an attorney as a result of the investigation which ousted Joseph C. Pelletier as district attorney of Suffolk county, today won his appeal for transfer from the supreme to the superior court of a suit by Meyer Berman for $50,000 alleged to have been given to Coakley under threat of criminal prosecution. Coakley contended that as this case figured in the Pelletier proceedings tried by the full bench of the supreme court, he could not get a fair trial there. The chief justice of the superior court may assign the case for trial by a single justice or may, as Coakley requests, assign it for trial by a jury.

Control of Muelheim From Communists

Police Cut Through Lines of Besiegers and Caught Them
in the Rear

BERLIN, April 20. (By the Associated Press.)—Eight persons are so far reported dead and more than 30 wounded as a result of the disturbances in Muelheim, according to special despatches this noon which state that, although the city has been freed from the communist grip, armed hands are still causing trouble in the outskirts.

Thirty Leaders Arrested

MUELHEIM, April 20. (By the Associated Press.)—After being terrorized for three days by communist mobs, Muelheim today was again under control of the constituted German authorities. The 300 police and city officials who had been besieged in the Rathaus issued from this great fortress-like building this morning, cut through the lines of the besiegers, caught them in the rear, arrested many and took control of the city.

Thirty leaders of the besiegers were arrested. One of them, a man named Korten, is said to have been the leader of the Kiel revolution in 1918. He resisted arrest and was wounded, probably fatally.

The casualties for the period of disorders so far as made up this morning, showed six dead and from 60 to 70 wounded, some of whom may die.

The French troops remained throughout the trouble in or near the security police barracks which they are occupying. They took no part in the affair, which they regarded as purely local.

LOWELL WOMAN DEFENDANT IN ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS CASE IN LOCAL COURT

IN LOCAL COURT

A case of alienation of affections and the resultant loss of much property and money, according to the statements of the plaintiff, Mrs. Ann Windsor of this city, was opened in superior court this morning. The defendant in the case, Christina M. Whittier, also of this city, has had an attachment of $20,000 placed against her real estate and other property.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant, Christina M. Whittier, continued to live with her husband, the late John Windsor, and the testimony of the plaintiff, Mrs. Windsor, is that she was married to Mr. Windsor in England. Two children were born, and later the husband left for America, where he was successful in business. She stated in answer to the questions propounded by her attorneys that she was about to leave for America, back in 1915, when the World broke out, causing a change in her plans.

Letters received by her during the war period, she declared showed that her husband, apparently had lost his affection for his wife. She was notified of his death, but was informed that practically all of her husband's property had been given to missionaries. This she did not believe because she said that he was not a generous man, at least he had not been generous with her.

The plaintiff testified that she arrived in this country April 24, 1922, two years after her husband's death. She learned later that he had died at the home of the defendant in the case. She investigated the matter and was told of the defendant's devotion to charities, and that no property had been left, although he was very successful in business.

CITY WILL SEIZE TWO TRACTS OF LAND IN PAWTUCKETVILLE FOR PARK PURPOSES

At a special meeting of the board of park commissioners to be held next Monday evening at 7 o'clock, action will be taken on seizure orders covering two tracts of land in Pawtucketville the department intends to develop as playground and park areas. The first order is for the Ayer property in Mammoth road, a tract of 5 1/2 acres, to be used as a play area, while the second is land along the river bank off Riverside street, now occupied by the old jam factory, so-called, to be developed as a part of the river bank parkway on either side of Pawtucket bridge.

The city solicitor has given notice that titles to the land now are satisfactory and the seizure orders will be ready for action next Monday.

The commission, also, will name its corps of playground teachers at this meeting. Last year 25 instructors were employed, but this summer will find a larger number at work. It is said 30 far, 91 applications are on file and from this total necessary recommendations will be made by Supt. Kernan.

A proposition to erect permanent bleachers on the Summer street slope of the South common, to take the place of the temporary structures that did not fill the bill last year, will be discussed. Bleachers of the type desired will cost about $2000.

It is probable that the commission will take some preliminary action toward the acquisition of a triangular plot of land at the junction of Gorham and Carleton streets. The tract has an area of 1655 square feet and if developed as a park would greatly enhance the appearance of what is now an unattractive square. Councilor Arthur E. Chadwick is interested in the proposition and will appear before the commission to speak in favor of its acquisition.

SOLDIER TRAMP AND WHAT HE DID

The following poem appeared in the old Vox Populi about 20 years ago, and is published here by request of J. Walter Richardson as appropriate to Patriots day.

Scene—A City Police Court
"Ter honor, I plead guilty, I'm a bummer;
I don't deny the cup here found me drunk;
I don't deny that through the whole, long summer
The sun-warmed earth has been my only bunk.
I hain't been able for to earn a livin';
A man with one leg planted in the tomb
Can't git a job—an' I've a strong mis-givin'
'Bout bein' cooped up in a soldiers' home.
"Whar did I lose my leg? At Spottsylvania—
Perhaps you've read about that bloody fight;
But then I guess the story won't restrain you
From doing what the law sets down as right.
I'm not a cag through choice, but through misfortune.
An' as fur drink—well, all men have their faults.
An' Judge, I guess I've had my lawful portion
O' rough experience in prison vaults.
"I served as private in the Tenth New Jersey.
An' all the boys'll say I done what's right.
Thar ain't a man can say that Abram Bursey
War ever found a-shirk'n' in a fight.
Right in the hell-born, frightful roar o' battle,
Whar shot and shell shrieked through the darksome wood,
Amid the blindin' smoke an' musket's rattle,
You always found me doin' the best I could.

"We had a brave ol' fellow for a colonel—
We called him Sweet, but his name was Sweet—
Why, Judge, I swear it, by the Great Eternal!
That brave ol' chap'd rather fight than eat.
An' you could allus bet your bottom dollar
In battle Sweet'd never hunt a tree,
He'd allus dash into the front and boiler.
"Brace up, my gallant boys, an' toller me!"

"Well, just before the Spottsylvania battle,
Ol' Sweety cum to me an' says, says he:
I tell you, Abe, 'tain't many things'll rattle
A tough old, weather-beaten cub like me;
But in my very soul I've got a feelin'
That I'm a-goin' to get a dose today.
An' it ain't no use fur me to be concealin'—
The skilful thoughts that in my bosom play.

"For many years you've been my neighbor, Bursey,
An' I hev allus found you squar' an' true—
Back in our little town in old New Jersey,
No one has got a better name than you.
An' now I want yer promise, squarly given,
That if our cause today demands my life,
An' you yourself are left among the livin',
You'll take me back and lay me by my wife."

"Well, Judge, that day, amidst the roar o' battle,
"Most desperate bloody fight I ever seed,
Way up in front I saw the daring colonel
Throw up his hands and tumble off his steed.
In half a minute I was bendin' o'er him
An' seein' that he wasn't killed out-right,
I loaded him upon my back and bore him
Some little distance back out o' the fight.

"The blood from out a ghastly wound was flowin',
An' so I snatched the shirt from off my back,
For I could see the brave ol' man war-goin'—
To die unless I held that red tide back.
An' perty soon I seed he was revivin',
An' heard him whisper: "Abe, you've saved my life,
Your ol' wool-shirt, along with your connivin',
Has kept me from that grave beside my wife."

"Well, Judge, while I stood thar beside him, schemin'
On how to get him in a doctor's care,
A ten-pound shell toward us come a-screamin'
Just like a ravin' demon in the air,
An' w'en it passed, I found myself a-lyin'
Across ol' Sweety's body, an' I see that 'tarnal shell, that by us went a-flyin',
Had tuk my leg along for company.

"Well, Judge, that's all; 'cept when the war was over,
I found myself a cripple, and since then
I've been a sort o' shiftless, worthless rover.
But just as honest as the most of men.
I never stole a dime from livin' mortal,
Nor never harmed a woman, child or man.
I've simply been a bum, and hope the court'll
Be just as easy on me as it can."

Then spake the judge: "Such helpless, worthless creatures
Should never be allowed to bum and beg;
Your case, 'tis true, has some redeeming features,
For in your country's cause you lost a leg,
And yet I feel the world needs an example
To check the tendency of men to roam;
The sentence is, that all your life—your court'll
Be the best room in my humble home."

The soldier started! Dumb! Silent as a statue!
Then in a voice of trembling pathos, said:
"Judge, turn your head an' give me one look at you—
That voice is like an echo from the dead!"
Then forward stepped he, grimy hand extended,
While tears down his sun-browned cheek did roll,
And, with "Amen" and pathos, strangely blended,
"Why Colonel Sweet, durin' it, you brave ol' soul!"
—Don Santiago Carlin.

Children Learning Classics? So Must Their Parents!

By N.E.A. Service
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—Mothers and fathers of Missouri will not let their children get ahead of them. Modern educational methods are producing a knowledge of the classics in music among the youngsters, such as the older generations never had.

To offset this advantage, Mrs. Joseph Rodos, of Webster Groves, Wis., has started a movement to prevent parents from lagging behind their children in musical culture. Mrs. Rodos is honorary president of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs and in this capacity is organizing neighborhood music appreciation circles throughout the state.

Like School
The circles are composed of the parents of the boys and girls who are being taught in their schools to understand and appreciate grand opera and classical music.

The circles meet either monthly or weekly. Their members become familiar with all the famous opera selections by means of phonograph records. The neighborhood circles exchange records and a mutual circulating library thus is kept in operation.

Texts Read, Too
MRS. JOSEPH RODOS

Occasionally there is a circle test with prizes for the members who recognize the largest number of selections.

"Nowadays," points out Mrs. Rodos, "the average school boy or girl can recognize instantly any grand opera selection upon hearing it played. While on the contrary his mother merely looks blank or says in a puzzled manner, 'I've heard that somewhere.'"

"A great deal is being done now to teach the children to love good music."

Still enough of those friend-making values in Dresses, Coats, Suits, Blouses, Sweaters, Skirts, Hosiery and Underwear—to make a trip downtown to see them well worth your while.

Birthdays come but once a year—and while we aim always to offer to the women of Lowell the very best Merchandise we can find—at the most reasonable prices—we cannot often duplicate such Bargain Offerings as these.

This very well have been told to Charles Ray by James Whitcomb Riley. For the contribution of this striking work to screen history, Joseph De Grasse, who directed and Fatsy Ruth Miller, Ramsey Wallace, Edythe Chapman, Lon Poff and others of the cast must be given due credit.

Douglas MacLean's first independent production, "Going Up," has been completed. It is a screen adaptation of the Cohen and Harris New York success.

"I'll have to be the original Cornish coast to make a proper setting for 'Captain Applejack.' Fred Niles' forthcoming production for Louis B. Mayer and Metro, 'Nothing in California quite fills the bill.

Rudolph Valentino has been busy at work writing "his side" of the Famous Players-Valentino court litigation for Photoplay, a movie magazine. In the article he tells his life story and leads gracefully up to the point of the break with the big film company, which he says was occasioned by the company insisting upon placing him in pictures which he knew "would not keep faith with the public."

CHARLES RAY

The boy's hopeless adoration and its adjustment in his own mind to final absorption through love conflict only as Ray develops it in substance and form is artistry warranting the highest praise. Throughout the movement of drama depicting the varied life of an old Indian countryside is always sublimely and subtly the boy's mental reactions.

Selective introduction of color, puppets, fighting monsters and a cat packing her kittens painfully up a loft ladder, is employed to emphasize for the audience the implications of the leading call tragically baffled in the young man.

The big love scene, only a dream so far as the boy is concerned, in which he confesses his passion in a frenzy that frightens the girl into a swoon, and which must as terrible as death to which in nature's scheme it is so closely akin, in spite of the fact that what objectively his will keeps in restraint—the abysmal things of love and hate.

This and the jealousy sequence, portrayed by the same device, are Charles Ray's unforgettable peaks of emotional abandon, as the episodes of his drive to the church to give the girl he adored to another man in marriage are holocausts of even more effective regression.

"The Girl I Loved," said to embrace parts of Riley's own romance, is, as Ray presents it, such an agony of adolescence as few men save poets would reveal one to another. Done with its poetic delicacy, however, its homely investment and compelling pathos, it

DE MAR AGAIN WINS MARATHON

BOSTON, April 20.—Clarence H. De Mar of Melrose, victor in the American Marathon road race yesterday for the third time, was back at his printer's desk today with only a blistered heel as an admitted after-effect of the long grind. The feat of being first to win the event in three years, and second to win it successfully in two years, both achievements coming 12 years after he had run home winner for the first time, did not leave this man of 35 years satisfied. He announced as he sat type that his "cunning wiles" were over until fall, but that he would begin "high" training for the American Marathon of next year, with a view especially to qualify for the American team that will run in the Olympic Marathon at Paris.

The first 4 finishers and their times: Clarence H. De Mar, Melrose, 2:23:47 1/2; Frank Zana, Millrose A. A., New York, 2:25:32; Wallace Carlisle, Sylvan A. A., Chicago, 2:27:10 4/5; Albert D. Michelson, Cynnet A. C., Stamford, Conn., 2:28:27 2/5.

An enjoyable time was had by all, the party breaking up at a late hour, all wishing the guest the best of luck in her new venture as a private teacher of sewing.

AN "OLD PILL"

THAT was years ago when he packed a terrible grouch, a mighty irritable stomach and a liver that refused to do the things that all good livers should. No wonder his friends called him an "old pill" and stayed away.

But that was years ago—long before he discovered Beecham's Pills and learned that two at bedtime can bring sunshine into a man's life. Today, he's an optimist, a hero to his wife, and a staunch believer in Beecham's Pills.

The cheer that Beecham's Pills bring into a man's disposition, is the incomparable cheer of sound digestion, active liver, and the regular habits that make good health.

B'NAI BRITH HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of Lowell lodge, B'nai Brith, was held in Liberty hall last night with more than 300 members and friends of the association present to enjoy the dinner and to hear Rabbi Samuel Schulman of the Temple Bethel, New York.

The dinner was served at about 7 o'clock and consisted of choice foods nicely served. During the dinner, music was furnished by the Y.M.H.A. Junior orchestra, whose offerings were of the best and received most hearty applause from the large social gathering.

A period set aside for a social followed the dinner and gave the members of the lodge an opportunity to meet the guests and fellow members of the organization. Following this, President Benjamin S. Pauszner introduced the Rabbi Schulman who gave an address on the question, "The Democracy Justified." Rabbi Schulman is an eloquent speaker and his subject was of the greatest interest to the members of the B'nai Brith and their guests as it concerned topics of present day interest.

BROADENED FOR EVENING

"Golden and heavy with gold" are the summer evening wraps. Practically all of them are of broadened satins—some so heavily crusted with the design that it's hard to guess the original fabric.

One typically magnificent evening wrap is of heavy black satin broadened in red and gold, then lined with gold and red striped crepe.

For daytime wear wraps are soberest. Usually crepe is the material—silk crepe in one of the popular grays or tans of spring.

HIGH SCHOOL NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

The officers of the Lowell high school Natural Science club were announced today at the school and are as follows: President, Daniel C. Hanson; vice-president, Josephine E. Parke; secretary, Katherine B. Harrington; and treasurer, Ellwood B. Peters.

The next meeting of this club will be in May, and the final meeting of this season in June. At these meetings interesting papers will be read by the members and it is hoped that several prominent speakers will be obtained for each of these occasions.

The purpose of the club is mainly educational, spreading knowledge of natural science among the members and getting them interested in it so that its study will be considered more as pleasure than as work. There are about 1000 pupils who are studying science at the school and it is the purpose of the club to get started this spring so that in the fall its activities may be resumed without the wasting of any time in preparation.

IS OBLIGED TO FULFILL CONTRACT

Miss Mary Ann Dentler, who for the past few weeks has been pleasing the patrons of the Lowell Opera House as leading lady, was obliged to leave because of a contract made prior to the one with Al Luttinger. Miss Dentler would like to have remained with her friends here in Lowell for the remainder of the season, but contract for summer engagements are often made several seasons in advance and the one with the Poli Players in Hartford, was such a contract.

It was hoped until the very last minute that Mr. Barclay and Al Luttinger, himself, would make other arrangements with the Poli people so that Miss Dentler could remain, but it proved to be an impossibility. Miss Dentler leaves many friends here in Lowell and is looking forward to next season, at which time she will greet them again.

Mr. Luttinger has Miss Edith Stockton, a striking blonde, in Miss Dentler's place this week and announces that shortly a permanent new leading lady will make her appearance here for Lowell theatre-goers' approval.

NEW ENGLAND PORT DIFFERENTIAL CASE

At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce some time ago, it was voted to send a representative to the hearing on the New England Port Differential case at Washington. The chamber has just received word that this hearing will be on May 22 and 23 and would like to have some member who is familiar with the freight situation in New England attend as their representative.

The hearing is of the utmost importance to New England because if the differential is changed to put Boston and other New England ports on an equal footing with Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, much more freight will be shipped from here, as the distance between many points in the middle west and Boston by rail is less than to New York, or any of the other middle Atlantic seaports.

ANNUAL REUNION AT NABNASSETT CAMP

The annual Camp Nabnasset reunion was held at the Y.M.C.A. encampment yesterday, with a large group of youngsters and camp leaders in attendance. Boys' Director T. R. Williams had charge of the affair. Baseball games and boating were enjoyed by the campers.

In the evening the visitors to the camp returned to the association building on Merrimack street and sat down to an appetizing dinner. The camp will open for the 16th season July 5. Present indications are that the attendance will be greater than ever.

BURGLARS ACTIVE IN THE HIGHLANDS

Last Wednesday night it was reported to the police that burglars were active in the Highlands section of the city. Not less than eight homes were broken into during the evening when the occupants were at theatres or other places of amusement. Most of the breaks were in the vicinity of Westford and Princeton streets. Officers detailed to the scene received the information that thorough work was done by the thieves in the majority of instances. A description of the burglars places them at about 17 years of age. It is probable that arrests will be effected soon.

BANQUET AND ENTERTAINMENT

A banquet and entertainment marked the annual ladies' night of the Barren class of the First Baptist church Wednesday night. The affair was held in the vestry of the church and was very enjoyable. The principal speaker was Gardner W. Pearson, assistant district attorney for Middlesex county, who spoke on "Duty." The election of officers for the ensuing year took place with the following result: Frank Spooner, president; Fred C. Hall, vice president; Thomas Brown, treasurer; Frederick Campbell, secretary; Leon B. Abbott, Harold Brown and Walter B. Clement, executive board. The banquet was served by the Ladies' Benevolent society of the church.

U. S. SENATOR WALSH IN ABLE ADDRESS TO KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ON PRESENT UNREST

Described the Prevailing Causes as Inability of the People to Secure Fair Treatment From Congress—Radical Changes in Congress Demanded—Liberties of the Masses Must Not Be Voted Away in Grants of Special Privilege—Real Representative Government Must Be Restored

Climaxing in a most impressive manner, his notable all-day visit to Lowell, Sen. David I. Walsh addressed a large and intensely interested audience of K. of C. members in the new assembly hall of Lowell council Wednesday evening. An enlightening exposure of the political unrest in America at the present time together with the chief causes and the practical remedies featured the address which was more than an ordinary importance as dealing with the steps that must be taken to suppress the growth of radicalism in this country and to overcome the sectionalism represented by the various party labels that usurp the political party labels to attain their sectional aims. His description of the helplessness of congressmen under the steering committee system under the steering committee system, he said, party labels do not, as formerly, indicate the policies of those who bear them.

Senator Walsh's appearance before the local knights was greeted with much applause and enthusiasm, for it was at the special invitation of Grand Knight John E. Hart and the members of Council No. 72 that the junior senator consented to come here. Previous to his speech Wednesday evening, an informal reception was held in the council rooms, the distinguished guest meeting and exchanging greetings with several hundred members of the organization.

Grand Knight Hart, after extending a greeting to the assembly, introduced as presiding officer for the evening, Mr. John V. Donoghue, lecturer of the council. In a neat and appropriate speech, Mr. Donoghue presented the junior senator as an old friend of the council, a gentleman who from character and ability had had won a national reputation and stood for the highest type of American citizenship, the foe of radicalism and an advocate of what is best in protecting the rights and interests of the masses. The senator received a most cordial greeting.

SENATOR WALSH'S ADDRESS
A spirit of unrest prevails in all countries. From a state of peace and tranquility in 1914, the whole organization of European life is today poisoned with hate. It is significant that no political leadership is yet on the horizon in Europe pointing the way to the permanent restoration of peace and prosperity. In Europe there is still an enthroned force and idealism is an outcast.

But what of our own country? Is it not timely to inquire as we condemn the European system as a stricken and sinking system, whether or not our own is secure? Whether anything effective is being done to stop the leaks in our social, economic and political systems? Is it a fact, as widely alleged, that nothing is being done? But some of you say, America is not Europe and that the influence of the chaos there has not directly or indirectly reached us. We belong to another system. Yet, who challenges the assertion that there is a spirit of political and economic unrest, discontent and dissatisfaction in this country today aiming at and directed against existing political methods?

Let us inquire just what evidences we have of the existence of political unrest in this country. One of the many recent evidences is the presence of blocs in the congress of the United States. Blocs are group protests, and a strike against political regularity. The organization of a bloc in a political party is for the purpose of demanding that the leadership of the party give its support to that particular group's program, and upon failure to do so, they threaten to "blow" the regular party program. The blocs more recently organized in the congress justify their existence upon the claim that inviolable blocs and selfish groups interested in their own programs and not in the public weal have long any attempt to remove the disabilities suffered by other groups. However, the present discussion of blocs is simply for the purpose of pointing out that their existence is the expression of a form of unrest.

The disintegration of the old political parties is a further evidence of unrest. Party labels no longer represent what they did formerly. The democratic label represents quite different political principles in different parts of the country; and certainly the republican label is even more of a misnomer.

The elections of last fall were impressive in many ways, not the least, however, was the expression of unrest by the meaninglessness of party labels to the electorate. The election in at least four states, which apparently voted republican—I refer to the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Iowa—was an anti-republican as it was politically possible to make them. These states elected with the use of the republican label, United States senators who are more opposed to the political doctrine and opinions of the present leadership in the republican party than is any militant democrat. Similar illustrations would show many wide differences in the interpretation of the same party label. It is no longer doubted but that certain radical groups in this country—socialists, farmer-laborites and like groups intend to take possession of the old party labels, choosing the one heretofore used by the majority in their respective communities in electing their candidates. They would be the last to admit that their political principles have anything in common with the generally accepted national belief as to the particular party label's principles of which they have taken possession.

Unrest in America
Today, as never before, in America,

socialism, bolshevism, syndicalism and communism thrust their arrows at our economic and political systems with an unparalleled fury. They point out to their increasing followers that under the present system self-interest on every side is unrestrained and unchecked and that day by day the gap between the predatory class and the poor widens.

The class inequalities which grow constantly wider, they assert, are due not so much to indifference to justice as to special privileges secured through governmental control. Repeated pronouncements of alarm have come out of the department of justice during attention to the predatory movements in this country championing these extreme radical doctrines of the advocates of the overthrow by force of our free institutions.

The staggering burdens of our ever-increasing taxes, war debts, national state and municipal levies have and are creating a restless attitude in quarters heretofore among the most contented. The disregard for law which has been so rampant since our government has attempted to enforce one of our

has gained ground in this country which looks upon the bearing and rearing of children as something coarse and vulgar and to be avoided, but the advent of Eugenics means much for the motherhood of the race. Happy is the wife who, though weak and ailing, depends upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to health, and when headaches and backaches are a thing of the past brave sons and fair daughters rise up and call her blessed.—Adv.

recent constitutional amendments—this indifference and disrespect being even more observable among the educated and well-to-do classes than among the masses—is also contributing to an unsettled spirit in the body politic.

The wave of sectional feeling and the insistent demands of sectional groups rampant in a large measure the consecration of public men to the promotion of the general welfare. A wave of intolerance and racial and religious bigotry has supplanted the attitude of good will and understanding that swept the country during the dark days of the war, when all elements of people joined in a common spirit of service and sacrifice to our country.

More general than all the aforementioned, yet possibly included within their scope, is the situation which I quote from an editorial in a most conservative newspaper—"the growing apprehension on the part of the people in regard to the integrity of our government, never at such a low ebb." On all sides one hears expressions of doubt as to the capacity of our present institutions to give direct and adequate relief to the people in those emergencies when they need governmental assistance. There is an unmistakable lowering of the country's morale due to the lessening of confidence in the capacity, efficiency, expansiveness and even security of our government. The belief spreads that the old political parties no longer entertain a real sense of obligation to the common weal; that the old parties have lost the intellectual and moral courage to face the realities of the day and seek a solution of the terrible problems of the hour.

Senator Walsh has given voice to this form of unrest when he declared in a recent speech that the people of America were today thinking ahead of their political leaders. So much for the evidence indicating a state of unrest.

The Chief Causes

Let us consider the causes. They are numerous. The present economic system which makes agriculture unprofitable and gives the producer such a Weak kidneys had him up many times every night. Felt tired, dizzy and had shortness of breath. Helet was completely, he says.

A special representative from the Drecto Laboratory, New York, called on him. Free samples given.

It is not hard to explain the popularity and the enormous sales of Drecto. Some of the best and most substantial evidence of this section has given it a fair trial and proclaim it the best medicine they ever took. A recent public statement is from Mr. P. A. Gilbe, residing at 308 Bryan and 14th Street, New York City. He is an engineer on the N. Y. Central and known to thousands of rail and business men. Mr. Gilbe stated recently:

"I have received more good in taking Drecto than any other medicine and I have tried lots of them seeking relief from my troubles. My kidneys bothered me greatly for there was a constant aching pain in my back right across them. They acted so freely that I was small percentage of what the consumer pays is one of them. Considerable profiteering which is evidenced by the fact that more millionaires were created in the United States during the war, from the outbreak of hostilities in Europe to the signing of the armistice, than were made in all the previous history of our country. It is another. The story of the extent to

In many cases during the night. My liver was sluggish which brought a dizzy spell, headache and a coated tongue. If I walked much, or climbed a hill I would be out of breath.

It is remarkable how two bottles of Drecto have cleaned my system and stimulated my vital organs. My kidneys have been strengthened so that I never have a headache nor have to get up during the night. My liver was purged gently day by day till now, I never grow dizzy, can walk fast without getting winded, I feel better in every way from this medicine."

When the liver, kidneys or bowels become inactive, the system fails to throw off the poisons and slowly, day by day we are weakening our bodies till a breakdown comes. Sometimes it takes the form of the above case. Drecto causes the organs to carry off these toxins and waste matter and keeps the system free of these poisons.

Go today to Green's Drug Store, a Merrimack St., ask for Mr. Prebble, the well known Drecto Expert, and he will courteously explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you if he believes Drecto will benefit you.—Adv.

Poor or Rich, Girl Scouts Meet to Help Both

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Poor girl or rich girl—the needs of each will be discussed at the ninth annual convention of the National Council of Girl Scouts to be held here during the week of April 22.

Girls who come from homes that are troubled by financial difficulties probably will get the most consideration, but those who happily are born into families possessed with plenty have "difficulties" too, which the scouts endeavor to correct.

The convention, which will be held at the Wardman Park hotel, will be preceded by a week of intensive training in scout leadership at the Manor club just outside of Norbeck, Maryland.

Representatives from almost every large city in the United States will be present. There are 250 councils in the organization, but in many smaller cities there are no organized councils, and many of this latter class of cities will be represented, too.

In all, 360,000 girls will be accounted for through delegates to the convention.

LEADERS AT THE GIRL SCOUTS' CONVENTION. TOP, LEFT TO RIGHT, MRS. FREDERICK EDEY, MRS. HERBERT HOOVER, NATIONAL PRESIDENT, MRS. E. M. SWIFT. BELOW, MRS. ARTHUR OSGOOD CHOATE.

Mrs. Frank D. Holland of Atlanta, Miss Caroline Lewis of White Plains, N. Y., Mrs. James J. Scorrow of Boston and Dean Sarah Louise Arnold, head of the education department.

Camp Problem

One of the most interesting topics to be discussed will be needs of scouts according to geographical sections. Delegates from California, New York, Florida and Minnesota will tackle the question.

There are about 200 girl scout camps in the country, and some of the papers to be read will deal with possible improvement of these summer vacation places.

Another thing which is getting the serious thought of the scout executives is how leaders of the future may be developed, as it is thoroughly understood that the movement cannot continue to go forward unless real leaders are developed from the ranks of the scouts themselves.

On Thursday annual election will be held. Present incumbents are: Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president; Mrs. Arthur Osgood Choate, Mrs. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, Mrs. E. M. Swift, Colorado Springs, and Mrs. William F. Sims, wife of the admiral, vice president; Mrs. Nicholas Brady, treasurer. Among those on the executive board are Mrs. Frederick Edey, Miss E. Gwen Martin and Mrs. W. H. Scudder.

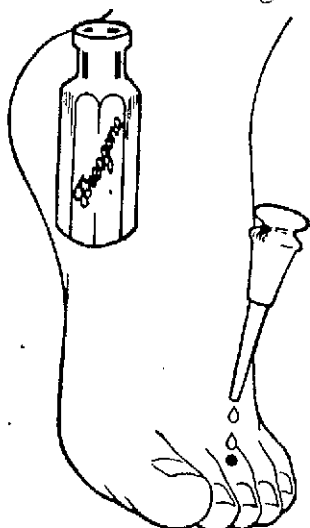

MAKES 'EM TIT!

Tut! Tut! Can't you hear the beach censors tutting when they see Miss Alice Cody wearing the new 'hat' bathing suit? And it isn't one-piece, either.

Aviator to Carry Aid to Starving Persons

NORTHPORT, Mich., April 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Lieut. Meredith the aviator who last February flew across the state to Beaver Island to carry a doctor to Jess Cote, reported dying there will hop off today in a giant De Havilland army plane in a second attempt to carry aid to the nine men and one woman reported starving on South Fox island. The plane which left the field yesterday and crashed through the ice in attempting to land here, was abandoned last night after several efforts to remove it from the water had failed.

Frightful Infection From Barber Shop Razor

Face of Massachusetts Man Was Entire Mass of Sores When He Tried Zonite

Seventy per cent. of the allied wounded died from wound infection prior to the discovery of the Carrel-Dakin solution. After the discovery and use of the antiseptic, deaths from infection dropped to less than one per cent. This is history.

Zonite is an improved form of the Carrel-Dakin solution. The following letter shows what it is accomplishing for infections contracted in days of peace. The letter is from Mr. George Albert Fox, 76 High street, Medford, Mass.

"I have had a frightful infection of the face, due, I believe, to an unclear razor in a barber shop. My face was an entire mass of sores which failed to yield to ointments and other remedies that I tried. A cousin of mine who had used it recommended Zonite. I purchased the antiseptic and began its use, almost as a last resort. After a few days the sores began to dry up and fall off and in a day or so later the inflammation and rash had entirely disappeared. Zonite is non-poisonous, non-irritating and healing. It has more than twice the germicidal strength of pure carbolic acid, more than 50 times the strength of peroxide of hydrogen and more than ten times the effectiveness of many of the so-called "mild" antiseptics heretofore in general use.—Adv.

SALE AND DEMONSTRATION OF WORKS OF BLIND

Anthony Martone, of Boston, who is totally blind, will give vocal selections in Liberty hall during the two-day exhibit, sale and demonstration of the works of the blind Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. This will be part of the musical program most of which will be given by blind men and women. To see a sighted person operating a typewriter machine is common, but to see a blind person using the same machine without any special device to make it more convenient to find the keys may seem quite a feat until it is explained that teaching the blind to do typewriting and dictaphone operation is only one of the many branches of the work of the state department of the blind. Exhibitions of typewriter operation by blind persons will be given at the coming exhibit in Liberty hall.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. was taken in 1916. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well known tonic for the blood. This strengthbuilder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, Tablets or Liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Sweet Innisfallen," at the Lowell Opera House this week, with Bernard Daly, the famous Irish tenor, in the lead role, has proven to be one of the most successful productions staged by the local company during the entire season. The play has a special appeal for those who love the romantic old ballads of the Emerald Isle, and the scenic effects reproduce the natural loveliness and poetry of the country in all parts of the country are unanimous in declaring that "Sweet Innisfallen" is much better than "The Wicklow Postman" or "True Irish Hearts." Mr. Daly has a tenor voice of remarkable clarity and sweetness, and his regularly high quality makes him irresistible as a singer of the old, well beloved ballads. On Sunday the management of the local theatre will arrange a program of the highest possible type. The bill has been arranged to make it especially appropriate for those who like a different type of entertainment from the usual run of vaudeville seen during the week. Jaunita Hansen, the famous motion picture star, will tell in her own graphic way how she became a victim of the dope habit, and how, after a desperate and almost fatal struggle she succeeded in sending the dope demon down to defeat. Miss Hansen's struggle with a power that has proven too strong for so many modern theatrical people as well as countless others, is told by her in an instructive and thrilling way. The rest of the program has been arranged by a management that knows how to obtain the best as well as the most novel, that is afforded by the modern vaudeville stage.

H. P. KELTH'S THEATRE

The bill at the H. P. Kelth theatre is headed by the brightest act of the season, thus far—"A Dress Rehearsal." It is broadly crammed with good lines, and more than that, it is a succession of situations of a sort to lift you right out of your seat. Don't miss this best of comedy plays of the season. Janet of France, the comedy little Frenchwoman, is pleasing nightly with her little act. She is aided by Charles

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside

External treatments seldom cure

Piles. Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins

flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts

almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—

send a fresh current through stagnant

poors. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M.D., a specialist,

set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription

HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases

before he was satisfied. Now HEM-

ROID is sold by druggists everywhere

under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Green's Drug store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

802, scheduled to arrive in Lowell at 7:10 in the morning, averted what might have been a serious train wreck when he discovered a loose wheel on one of the day coaches in his train this morning. The wheel was located by the conductor immediately after the train had come to a stop in the yard here. Railroad officials stated that if the loose wheel had not been located here, the chances were almost certain that there would have been a bad accident. This train is used by many Lowell people who commute from this city to their work in Boston.

THE JADE GONG BIG SUCCESS

Girls' City Club Adds to Its Laurels at the Memorial Auditorium

Large Audience Pleased With Presentation of Greenwich Village Follies Revue

"The Jade Gong," a Greenwich Village Follies revue, was admirably presented at the Memorial Auditorium last night before a large audience by the Girls' City Club. With a cast that numbered more than 100 girls and young men, colorful costumes, exceptionally fine lighting effects and competent direction, the production was one of the most pretentious and artistically satisfying of its type ever attempted in the city.

The revue was presented in two parts, the first within a distinct Chinese atmosphere, and the second in Greenwich Village, with carnyval antics and any number of excellent specialties to add to the gaiety of the scene.

In the staging of the show the Girls' City Club was ably assisted by Frederick W. Brydon and Russell Porter, Westworth of Boston and J. Langdon Matthews of New York. Mr. Brydon directed and designed the sets and with Mr. Westworth directed the entire production, while Mr. Matthews was a dancer of outstanding ability. Principal characters as the audience met them were:

Prologue girl ..... Ruth Whelton
A Viceroy in the Orient, Russell P. Westworth
Spirit of Joss ..... J. Langdon Matthews
Hop Lee ..... Frederick W. Brydon
Yo San ..... Madeline McLaughlin
Sing Toy ..... Alice Dacey DeMare
Cherry Blossom ..... Doris Conley
Lalero ..... Agatha Jernst
Lalero Boy ..... Charles Clancy
Kory ..... Lena Dion
Jimbo ..... Jack Doran
Mary Jane ..... Ethel Santos
Mrs. Gump ..... Alice G. Coyne
Mr. Gump ..... Charles J. Keyes
Baby Gump ..... James Howe
French Girl ..... Lucienne Belanger
Girl in the hat box ..... Doris Conley
Sunshine girl ..... Lucienne Belanger
Good girl ..... Sadie Melancon
Miss Synchro ..... Mabel Hogan

The interior of a Buddhist temple was the setting for the first part of the production and before a grotesque statue of the great Chinese god, the action, which was edited and staged and brought into the glens of the spotlight many specialties that instantly found favor with the audience.

Prominent in this section of the show was Mrs. Alice Dacey DeMare, a local favorite, whose beautiful voice has been heard many times in amateur productions and who seems to gather fresh laurels on each subsequent appearance. As dainty as a Chinese flower, she sang three of the principal numbers, with "Glow, Little Lantern of Love" her best accomplishment. "Spirit of Joss" and the Tom Tom dance, introduced Mr. Matthews in excellent advantage and "Doin' in Chinatown" and "Dainty China Maid" were capably sung by Mr. Brydon. Lighting effects attained in the finale were particularly good. Club girls who appeared in the Chinese chorus were the Misses: Anabelle Manne, Kathleen Sullivan, Dorothy Babin, Beatrice Hession, Mary McNally, Mary O'Brien and Ellen Mulker. Solo dances by Miss Doris Conley and Miss Agatha Jernst were beautiful and attractive features.

It was not difficult to catch the true Greenwich Village atmosphere in the second half of the show. The following added brilliant color to the picture: "Purple Peacock," Gertrude Conkey; "Scarlet Dorian," Doris Conkey; "Spanish Maid," Cathryn O'Neill; "Castilian," Mabel I. Sullivan; "Pirates' Love," Mae Walsh; "Peacock," Helen Brady.

Vaudville of the Follies type appeared in rapid and kaleidoscopic review as groups of chorus girls appeared in specialties and many excellent principles kept action going at a rapid pace. Mr. Westworth was heard in several songs, one of which, "The World is Waiting For the Sunrise," gave his pleasing tenor voice an exceptional opportunity to be enjoyed by the audience. Again in this part, the Misses Conley and Jernst danced prettily and the "Miss Me By Wireless" number featured Charles Clancy as the dancing ruffian. One of the most enjoyed features of the show was the waltz dance by Jack McGarble and Lena Dion, assisted by a pitous chorus of typical Broadway maidens.

Charles J. Keyes and Miss Alice G. Coyne, with James Howe as their "baby" were the principals in a humorous skit based on the results of a missed train. Most effective was the "Sunshine" number, featuring Miss Estelle Doran and equally enjoyable was the work of Mr. Westworth and Miss Sadie Melancon in "A Bad Boy and a Good Girl," assisted by a chorus of Quakers.

As a finale the entire cast was grouped on the stage and enthusiastic applause rang out as the curtains brought the show to a close. After the floor was cleared dancing was enjoyed.

Members of the Girls' club who were of great assistance in the several choruses, included the following: Band Box girls: Anna Conway, Gladys Williams, Bertha Choquette, Madeline Burrows, Florence Seton and Helen Doran.

Sunshine girls: Alice Lowmyer, Mary McCarthy, Annette Geoffrey, Stella Maughan, Eva Messier and Catherine Callery.

Mary Jane's Dolls: Edith Whouley, Emma Chiro, Elmiro LeBlanc, Pauline Lantagne, Margaret Mulphy, Evelyn Twombly, Mae Rooney and Margaret McCarthy.

Hovey Maidens: Mary Sullivan, Mary Givany, Mary Manning, Isabelle Storey, Mae O'Neill, Josephine Manning, Mary Woods and Mildred Thomas.

Yankee Doodle girls: Elsie Chiro, Winnie Welch, Elizabeth O'Leary.

Catherine Lavery, Mary Larkin and Anna Boyle.

Quakers: Mary Sharkey, Anna Sharkey, Della Carly, Rose Berard, Rose O'Brien, Jessie Callahan.

Artists: Eva Lantagne, Mae Hewson, Irene Storey, Dorothy Lantagne, Charlotte Fawcett and Ruth Conney.

Radio girls: Laura Edmonds, Anna O'Neil, Grace O'Neil, Gertrude McGrath, Mary Diney and Alice O'Brien.

Lantern girls: Margaret Castles, Anna Robinson, Esther Roulne, Lohanna Gullin, Katherine Murphy, Mae O'Leary, Jessie Lynch, Alice Butler, Emma Rogo and Anna O'Leary.

Cigarette boys: James White, William White, Francis McCafferty, Joseph McCafferty, Henry Heaps, James Jones, Lucien Cole, Frank O'Brien, Frank Delmore, William Coughlin, Leo Dennis, Jack Tully, Walter Barrett and Samuel O'Neil.

noble one. James Clancy, another officer of the federated crafts also spoke and there were remarks by President A. J. Fortier of the club and others. Those who entertained with vocal numbers were Mr. Groux, Dr. J. E. Nott, George Hebert, Joseph Forget and Urselle Larue. The committee in charge consisted of Zeno Morissette, chairman; A. H. Groux and Frank Allard.

Make Remarkable Offer To Any Person in Lowell Who Is Weak, Sick, Nervous or Run-Down

It is Now Possible for You to Come to This Store. Get a Package of Genuine Nuxated Iron, Use It for Two Weeks, and If at the End of That Time You Have Not Received All, and Even Greater Benefits Than You Expect, Simply Bring the Wrapper Back to Green's and We Will Cheerfully Hand Your Back Your Money

Lowell people may well ask how we can afford to make this remarkable "Satisfaction or Money Back" offer. Medical examinations by physicians all over the country show that an amazing number of people lack 100% iron in their blood. At a recent conference, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (out door department), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said: "Without iron, the blood becomes weak, thin, pale and watery. In many people this so seriously weakens their vital organs as to lead them to believe that they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney disease, nerve force exhaustion or some other serious ailment. I have had people come to me thinking they heart, sudden dizziness, faintness or spots before the eyes. In a great many of these cases, the moment iron was supplied, all of these symptoms disappeared." We make this offer because Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy, that we recommend that you come right to Green's Drug Store and get your bottle of Nuxated Iron. Use it for two weeks, and note the improvement in your own case in strength, energy and endurance. If you are not more than surprised at the results, just bring back the wrapper, and we will promptly refund your money without question.—Adv.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EXCELLENT CONCERT BY ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY

The Lowell Orchestral Society, with Rudolph M. Schiller conducting, made its reappearance before the Lowell public Wednesday evening after a lapse of many years, in a concert of unusual merit that immediately won for it, in the hearts of the large audience in the school hall, the regard that previously was given to the old Orchestral Society.

The concert was, first and last, for the lover of music, and the program was one that called for exceptional ability on the part of every member, and showed plainly that the numbers had been well rehearsed. The first number was Haydn's Symphony No. 6, better known as the Surprise Symphony. Before the end of the second movement of this piece the members of the orchestra were in full swing and the Minuet, the third movement, was given in a way that plainly showed the members of the orchestra in full she was compelled to give an encore accord with the music and with the director.

The second number was Schubert's overture to "Rosamund." This selection is one of the best known of Schubert's many pieces and the rhythm was soon caught by the orchestra with the result that it was regarded the best of the whole evening's entertainment by the majority of the audience. The third orchestral number was ballet music from Faust, by Gounod.

The last number was Jean Sibelius' symphonic poem, "Finlandia." This was by far the most difficult piece attempted and its rendition would be creditable to an orchestra of many years' experience, rather than one making its first appearance before the public. The orchestra and Mr. Schiller were given most hearty applause at the close of this piece and the appreciation was well deserved.

Miss Hazel Tuttle, a contralto of more than usual ability, was the soloist of the evening. She gave three numbers, "Mists," by Respighi; "The Last Hour," by Kramer, and the "Spring Song of the Robin Woman," by Cadman. The last number, calling as it does for exceptional dramatic ability and a wide range, was un- doubtedly the best, and at its close the members of the orchestra in full she was compelled to give an encore to satisfy the applause of the audience.

An instrumental trio composed of violin, Florence N. Crawford; violoncello, Bernice M. Russell, and piano, Bernice M. Moulton, played Gounod's "Extase," and also a little waltz number.

The members of the orchestra are mostly recently recruited, but here and there could be seen a face familiar to patrons of the old Orchestral Society. Wednesday's performance, the first for many years, bespeaks a wonderful future for the orchestra as it fills a place long empty in the hearts of music lovers of Lowell, and if the same care is taken in coming performances as was taken in the first, there is no doubt whatever but what the society's future is assured.

PEOPLE DRIVEN FROM HOUSE BY SMOKE

The alarm from box 8 at 11:50 o'clock Wednesday night was for a partition fire in the tenement house numbered 7 Howe street, which is owned by H. W. Ordway. Because of the dense smoke that filled the house, the occupants of the building were forced to vacate. Several lines of hose were laid and in order to get at the blaze the firemen were forced to tear down partitions. The blaze was finally extinguished before it spread to the upper stories.

Senator Walsh's Address

which profiteering has been and is carried on in this country is dazzling and unbelievable. Profiteering, merciless, relentless, indiscriminating of man or child, intrinsically in conflict with the spirit of humanity, has constituted and continues to constitute one of the chief causes of unrest in this country, and it is, in my opinion, one of the greatest living perils to our republic as a free nation. It is no exaggeration to say that the enduring laws of God, but, resting upon a basis of the most ignoble elements of man, is provocative of the worst instincts within him. He who crushes the poor and helpless defiles the wrath of God as well as of nations.

Those who cry out for the Americanization of our foreigners can do as much for the safety of America when they realize the Americanization work most needed today is the Americanization of the greedy and selfish profiteers who are causing our foreign elements to entertain disrespect for our institutions and furnishing the radicals with facts to justify their contentions that our government remains indifferent to the exploitations of its people by permitting high and absolutely artificial prices for the necessities of life and tolerating excessive profit-making. Though we do not agree with the radical and dangerous conclusions of the radicals we must frankly admit that in many instances they have named abuses and demonstrated that the government has given repeated evidence of its indifference toward remedying well known evils that we all know exist.

The tendency in the government to restrict individual liberty is another cause of unrest. Every governmental effort to restrict individual freedom that is not necessary to promote the public welfare is a movement away from democracy to autocracy. The tendency to regulate what we eat and drink, what we wear, our amusements, the size of the family, and the place of education of our children is undoubtedly a trend toward autocracy. Thomas Jefferson realized the dangers of our going too far in the restriction of individual liberty, when he expressed in a letter to Madison, "It is the tyranny of the legislature that I fear most in our government—it is our greatest danger."

Restricting Individual Liberty

Yet while we are condemning the tendency recently manifested in this country toward restricting individual liberty, we must not lose sight of the fact that there has been an increasing demand that the government concern itself about problems that heretofore many have considered beyond the realm of governmental control and influence. Whatever may be the cause of this new interest in or demand for action by the government—whether an aftermath of the war or an awakening of a new interest in the problems of government—it is, nevertheless, true that more is expected and demanded today by the people of their government than ever before. Especially has this been observable in England. The unemployment problem, long ignored by the government, has resulted in the establishment of the gold system by the government to take care of the unemployed. Housing and agriculture problems of an entirely new character are pressing for solution. How serious is the housing problem in England may be inferred from the fact that three cabinet ministers went down to defeat in an election recently because of the failure of the government to furnish a satisfactory plan for the relief of housing conditions.

Nearly all of the demands that are being made today that would check, if not remove entirely the present interest, are pressing and deserving of our attention and adjustment. Indeed, stripped of all personal and political bias, we can subscribe to nearly all of them.

The masses, the thinking middle class, including that vast army of farmers, miners, clerical and manual, professional and business people—in fact all outside the powerful group of big financiers and their supporters—are opposed to the various forms of waste that have developed as a result of our modern economic system, that are the chief causes of unrest today, and are demanding a solution. They are opposed to the waste of life and human possibilities by under-education. They are opposed to waste of health and industrial efficiency through bad housing and underfeeding. They are opposed to the waste of production through unemployment. They are opposed to waste such as we find when coal costs $3.00 at the mines and $10 when delivered to the consumer. They are opposed to the waste which gives the farmer 20 per cent of the cost of his product to the consumer, permitting 70 per cent to be absorbed in the payment of transportation and commission by middle men. They are opposed to the waste in our economic system which is the result of paying more for transportation than for production. They are opposed to the waste in our economic system that permits private ownership to eliminate competition and stifle monopolies to exploit from their victims without limit. They are opposed to the waste of time in the legislative department of the government in dealing with the extremely urgent questions of the day. What are the old political parties doing about these problems? We know the present administration has done practically nothing. But have the old parties any programs? The truth is that very little is being done. These parties and public men and they prefer not to think about them. Of course the political "outs" will condemn the "ins" for not doing something, but what program or remedy do they present? For we are not now considering party success, but the abolition of the present government of supreme confidence in our government. Do I exaggerate when I say that there never was a time when there was so little creative service in our present political leadership. Isn't this the opinion of the great mass of our people? And isn't the reason for the spread and growth of radicalism, that radicalism that can and must be altered, due in a large measure to the consciousness of the people that so far as the old political parties are concerned their rights as members thereof have been largely reduced to the power of protest. The masses are swinging from one party to another in each succeeding election simply as a result of dissatisfaction against the "ins." How long can a government of and for the people thrive and prosper when the people have only the power to protest and can declare for nothing definite and certain or inaugurate positive and needed reforms?

Our people must be given the political instruments through which to express their convictions and these instruments must be so equipped as to ultimately, without unnecessary delay, remedy every wrong, secure every needed reform and solve every problem. Once they know the facts and the arguments the sense of justice in their hearts can be trusted.

Failure in Coal Situation

No better concrete example of the causes of unrest and the inefficiency and failures of our government to concern itself about the general welfare can be cited than the weak, vacillating and incompetent manner in which the coal situation has been handled. For months the suspension of the coal industry was permitted to continue without any apparent government interest on the part of the government, although it was evident in the spring of 1922 that unless there was a speedy resumption of operations a country-wide coal famine would result. Coal operators and dealers took advantage of the curtailment of production and have profited without check or restraint. Conditions went from bad to worse with the result that five months of curtailment of coal production left our people without coal to protect them against the rigors of a New England winter. A strong voice and vigorous policy would have easily prevented the long-postponed settlement of this strike.

The pitiful feature of the coal famine was not that it occurred on the confessed ignorance, helplessness and impotence of our government to prevent it. Has it come to this—that a coal famine may spread throughout the country because of a difference between a few producers of coal and their employees, and our people must starve and die without government intervention or action. Coal is scarcely one iota less essential to human life than food. Our industries threatened with stagnation and curtailment, our people without heat to protect them, this government of ours stood waiting for some miracle to bring about a peaceful solution.

Added to the famine was the further abuse of gouging our people by exorbitant prices and unrestrained cheating, by selling to our people unburnable coal. It was bad enough to be frozen, but it was adding insult to injury to permit rank and lawless deception and robbery to be practiced upon our people, and all this was either through the indirect connivance of our public officials or because of their outright cowardice. Do you wonder that the tone of our people was resentment, that they became angry and disgusted? Why? Because there wasn't in official Washington the courage to dictate to the coal barons of Pennsylvania and the striking miners; because our government had not insisted upon exacting from those monopolistic combines, producing the very essential of life, that service to the public which goes hand in hand with profit-making. The whole story is a pitiful admission and serious indictment of the inefficiency and functioning of the government to foster and protect the welfare of the people.

The recent coal situation and the sentiment that it created among the people who have had to shiver and suffer during the past winter should have made our public officials realize what our people are thinking about and that they will attempt to get action.

But let us not be blind to the answer which an element among us shall make—that element that tags every protest against any injustice as "liberal" or "radical," that element which complacently espouses the doctrine of let well enough alone; the same element that for the sake of some question of profit or for some profit-seeking strategy would permit our people to sink into a stage of political degradation or demoralization. "No government interference in business," is their slogan. It sounds well to the American lover of individual freedom. And it is a right slogan under certain conditions, but it goes too far in assuming that anyone wants to interfere in all business. It is only illegitimate business that needs government interference—the business controlling the needs of life and holding them for their own selfish, exorbitant gain, are the businesses which normal men want to regulate.

Private business when it interferes with the public weal ceases to be private business—it then becomes a public nuisance. Those mismanaged and self-complacent monopolies dealing in the very essentials of life, distract and poison the confidence of our people in their government and are as great a menace to honest business and efficiency as to the restoration of supreme confidence in our government. Do I exaggerate when I say that there never was a time when there was so little creative service in our present political leadership. Isn't this the opinion of the great mass of our people? And isn't the reason for the spread and growth of radicalism, that radicalism that can and must be altered, due in a large measure to the consciousness of the people that so far as the old political parties are concerned their rights as members thereof have been largely reduced to the power of protest. The masses are swinging from one party to another in each succeeding election simply as a result of dissatisfaction against the "ins." How long can a government of and for the people thrive and prosper when the people have only the power to protest and can declare for nothing definite and certain or inaugurate positive and needed reforms?

But what is the remedy that may assist in restoring confidence and dispelling the prevailing gloom of unrest. These immediate reforms should be inaugurated:

1. We should amend the constitution so as to provide for the convening of congress not later than January following the November congressional elections. This would prevent the waste of time of what is known as the "job session" of congress and prevent the passage of undesirable laws by disinterested legislators.
2. Revise the rules of the senate so as to eliminate extraneous and limitless debate, and change the rules of the house of representatives so that the right to vote shall not be denied the people's representatives. Today we have not representative government. Let our first concern be its restoration. It is action not indifference that is necessary when we see danger ahead. If we are to avoid inevitable disaster, one of the besting signs of our government today is its inaction; we talk, debate, postpone, delay, dilute—in fact, everything but vote and record decisions.

3. It is time for plain speaking; let the old political parties cease existing for the sake of office but reorganize for productive and creative ends in politics. Let them take up the primary questions in politics today. A bold treatment of the causes of unrest is imperative. A sane solution of the inequalities—social, political and economic—under which capital and labor, the producer and the consumer are being exploited must be evolved. With our parties vying with each other to protect the fundamental conception of our constitution, to defend against unrestricted capitalism and unbridled radicalism with a sincerity of purpose unquestioned, and a devotion unending to the common weal; then will unrest in the common world; then will the radicalism and all other un-Americanisms disappear just as the sunshine melts the winter's snow. We must not delay; we must not be half-hearted in the enactment of reform measures. All this can not be done suddenly, for with one blow we can not inaugurate a new spirit. It took years and a bloody war to undermine the old. If we refuse the call, if we fail to shake off the lethargy and indifference of the old political order and systems I fear the civilization that we know and cherish will be rudely shaken.

4. In brief, the surest way I know to check the growing unrest in this country and to maintain an enthusiastic spirit of confidence in our institutions is to courageously defend the inalienable rights of that great silent mass of American men and women who are the backbone of our free institutions. Its chief defenders in the hour of danger are those who seek, through governmental agencies and privileged legislation, to lessen and destroy their freedom. It is for the defense and protection of the rights of the silent millions who ask no favors, seek no privileges, but who merely want to be left alone in the enjoyment of their freedom—economic, political that we must contend.

Walter Poultot, Andrew A. McCarthy, James McMahon, Patrick Grady and Thomas Delmore gave the entire audience, seated on the stage besides the guests were the present and three ex-mayors of Lowell, Hon. John J. Donovan, Hon. James B. Casey, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy and Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

ANOTHER THANKFUL WOMAN

Not long ago a woman on Beacon St., East Boston, Mass., gave out a praiseworthy letter which appeared in newspapers. She mentioned how thankful she was for having been told about a contribution medicine known as Dr. True's Elixir.

Now another resident, Mrs. Rogers of 108 Falcon St., East Boston, writes: "I still have Dr. True's Elixir, for it surely benefits me. I have a good appetite and eat everything that I want. I could not get along as good as I do if I did not take Dr. True's Elixir. It is surely a wonderful medicine. I never felt any better than now since I took the Elixir."

In East Boston and elsewhere there are women, men and children who also can be made better in health by using Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. A favorite laxative for over 75 years! 40—60c—$1.20—Adv.

ely hall of the Memorial Auditorium and several hundred couples were present to enjoy dancing and the musical concert given by Mrs. Teresa Mahoney Donovan of Andover, and Dr. George L. Dwyer of Boston.

Senator David I. Walsh dropped in on the gathering during the course of the evening and was met by a committee consisting of clergy of St. Patrick's church and several prominent laymen. The senator spoke briefly to the assembly, being introduced by Rev. Dr. McElroy.

Dancing started at 8 o'clock and continued until midnight with but two short intermissions, one for the serving of refreshments. The first intermission was at 9 o'clock when Mrs. Donovan, a soprano soloist, and Dr. Dwyer, a tenor, entertained with several numbers, which were well received by the audience.

That the party was such a great success was due mainly to the work of the officers of the association, Miss Anna J. Dwyer, president; Miss Rose Joyce, vice-president; Miss Annie Donovan, treasurer; and Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, secretary. On Wednesday these officers were aided by Charles J. Leary as floor director, and numerous aids, all brothers of graduates of the academy.

SUCH AN argument seemed logical, Minton said. "If the owner of a professional American league club would release him and he is given his unconditional release, that of course deprives him of the $10,000 which Owner Frazee of the Boston club agreed to pay him. "If the American League would play him, far from through, it would seem that 15 years of loyalty to the American League failed to receive its proper reward in an unconditional release. "The case is, of course, certainly the big question mark or webster from an American league viewpoint."

FOR INTEREST IN THE RESERVE

Military Parade Precedes
Mass Meeting at the Memorial Auditorium

Gen. Mark L. Hersey Principal Speaker in Favor of National Preparedness

The mass meeting held at the Memorial Auditorium Wednesday evening as a means of arousing public interest in the organized reserve, more than justified itself when fully 2000 men and women turned out to learn some things in relation to the war department's new scheme of national defense.

Although two of the speakers on the original program, Lieut. Gen. Robert

L. Bullard and Gen. Andre Brewster, were unable to keep their engagements and Senator David L. Walsh found it impossible to attend the meeting, nevertheless was most interesting and fruitful.

Among those who did speak were Lieut. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, Col. A. J. Holmes, Dudley L. Page, Mayor John J. Donovan, Chaplain Gerrish of Lawrence, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers.

As a colorful feature, a parade of military and civilian organizations preceded the meeting and with flags flying and to the strains of martial music, led the way to the Auditorium.

Merrimack street was lined with people when the parade moved away from Monument square at 7:45 o'clock.

At the head of the column was the general staff composed of Major Francis S. Tooley, C.A.C., chief marshal; Major Percy J. Wilson, chief of staff; Lieut. James P. O'Donoghue, adjutant; Lieut. Michael H. Harrington, quartermaster; and Major Dana Palmer, aide.

Organizations in line included the 38th Artillery band, recently organized and equipped; the massed colors with guard of honor, consolidated of the company of Lawrence, Co. M, Machine gun, 152nd Infantry, Capt. Geo. P. Russell commanding; Battery B, 1st Cav., Capt. Fanner, commanding; 1st members of the Organized Reserve, United Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars and World War Associates and civilians.

One section of Battery B stationed on the summit of Fort Hill, fired salutes in honor of the visiting officers at 7:50 o'clock.

As the Auditorium was filling, the Artillery band, seated in the stage gallery, played an excellent program of march tunes and swung into "Marching Through Georgia" when Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, commander of the Legion post, escorted 16 Civil war veterans to reserved seats in the front row.

Major Tooley, as presiding officer, announced a band selected to open the meeting. This was followed by a section pronounced by Chaplain Gerrish, of the 38th regiment.

Greetings from the city were brought by Mayor John J. Donovan and Major Tooley then presented "Uncle" Dudley L. Page, representing the O.A.R. and a member of the old 11th army corps of Civil war days. He brought back many interesting memories of his service in the army under Grant and made an earnest plea for straightforward American citizenship.

Chaplain Gerrish gave a vigorous talk on the plan of the Organized Reserve, assailed the type of man who takes the shaker's oath and pleaded with his audience not to be misled by the delusions of disarmament.

Major Tooley regretted the inability of Gen. Andre Brewster to attend, but felt Lowell was particularly fortunate in being privileged to hear Col. Albert J. Boller, a veteran of two wars and now attached to the general staff at New England headquarters.

Col. Boller gave an interesting outline of the present army plan, speaking particularly of the summer training camps, one of which will be held at Devens this year.

Brig. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, formerly in command at Camp Devens and commander of the 15th brigade in the St. Mihiel offensive was the next speaker.

He spoke of the increasing numbers of "off" sympathizers in the country and told of a recent meeting in New York where several thousands of them took an oath not to enlist in any military movement in behalf of the United States. He urged support of the Organized Reserve as one of the important steps in the war department's organization.

Before concluding he explained that Lieut. General Robert L. Bullard was unable to be present at the meeting because of illness which confined him to New York.

Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the next speaker, advocated preparedness from a business standpoint. He emphasized the many good things summer training camps will accomplish and also spoke a word for the Reserve.

Because of the lateness of the hour and word that Senator David L. Walsh had just begun his address at the Knights of Columbus, the meeting was brought to a close.

same evening he refrained from extending himself and merely complimented the men for their fine spirit in going into the reserve, and the officers for their work in enlisting others for the service.

Following General Hersey's talk, he and Mayor John J. Donovan retired to the reception hall where the local reserve men had an opportunity to meet them. Before the reception was completed it was time for the parade to start and guests and reservists made a forced march to city hall.

BROADWAY CLUB WILL ERECT MONUMENT

President William A. Walsh and Timothy P. O'Sullivan, of the Broadway Social and Athletic club, at a meeting held Wednesday night outlined the plan for erecting a monument to the boys of the district in a life sized representation of the uniformed doughboy, standing on a pedestal 15 feet high. The land needed for the memorial has been given by the city. This will be graded and paved. The monument will be a memorial for the boys who made the supreme sacrifice, regardless of race or creed, this accounts in part the action of the Broadway club in starting the project. Plans were formed at the home coming celebration in 1919, but on account of unavoidable delays, it has been impossible to get this deserving cause underway.

Fifteen captains, each leading a team were selected at the meeting to procure the needed funds to erect the monument. The committee has already been pledged $1100, but $3000 more is needed. Each committee man authorized to solicit funds will wear an authorized button. In order to guard against possible fraud, Capt. Joseph H. Molloy, commander of the American Legion post, and Past Commander S. Curtis Garrity, who were present, presided over the club, the assistance of the American Legion post in the project. Commander Dodge of the disabled Veterans of the World War also promised the co-operation of his organization.

The monument designed by John Pinard of this city, from ideas originating among the members of the club, is practically completed at the Lowell monumental works company. Treasurer Peter F. Brady will receive contributions, large and small.

The members of the finance committee are: Wm. R. Kieran, Frank Richard, William A. Walsh, Jr., Timothy P. O'Sullivan and Daniel E. Martin. The press committee is represented by Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan and John M. Hogan.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

knew. Supt. John W. Kernan spent all forenoon in a frantic but fruitless search and finally was forced to the conclusion that Polley had jumped right off the earth.

In the afternoon Supt. Kernan went to Golden Cove park, along with 60 or 70 other members of the Lowell Driving club, to aid in a clean-up campaign on the club's meeting oval. He just couldn't keep that goat out of his mind, however, although reluctantly admitting that someone had "sent his goat" and probably would keep it.

It was somewhere in the vicinity of 5 o'clock that a strange object was seen browsing along the right of way of New York, New Haven & Hartford trucks that run past the park.

"It's the goat," 65 voices cried in unison, "it's Kernan's goat," and it was.

When opposite the trotting park entrance Polley's eye caught sight of acres of fresh spring grass and turned in. It was the beginning of the end for the old boy and before long he realized it. Tom Braden and others found a large net in the grandstands and with the 60-odd Driving club members holding it out at full length Polley was maneuvered into the proper position. But Polley was not going to be caught so easily. A couple of brick jumps and he was out of range again.

Then followed a miniature Ashland to Boston marathon with the goat running the gauntlet for more than half an hour. He showed more sidesteps than Tenderloin and more felts than Leonard, but finally was overcome by strategy. Someone tossed him a tin can and as he was tearing off the label it was a cinch to wind the net around him. As long as he had the can he didn't seem to care and to keep peace in the family the can accompanied him back to the Fort Hill zoo.

It has been suggested that the goat knew where he was going and really had a purpose in breaking jail. He came to Lowell last Wednesday morning over the New Haven line from New York and there are those who declare he simply was following his own scent back toward Gotham and the zoological gardens that used to be his home.

A couple of ordinary goats and a pair of month-old kids, just released from winter quarters in the park department stables, today were taken to the zoo and with them for company it is expected Polley will hang around home most of the time hereafter.

THE MOTORCYCLE SQUAD LOWELL BOY IS TENTH IN

Probable Personnel of Motorcycle Squad Announced by Superintendent Atkinson

The probable personnel of the motorcycle squad of the local police department, which will resume operations
next Sunday, was announced by Superintendent Atkinson this morning, and will consist of six officers, as follows: Charles Hamilton, Walter Klevan, Andrew Hunter, Bernard Judge, Frank Murphy and Daniel Lynch. All of these are experienced riders and have been members of the squad for some time.
The squad will be divided into two sections, four officers to be detailed to day duty and two to night. Besides regulating traffic, their duties will include watching for grass fires and all other matters pertaining to police protection.
With the anticipated increase in automobile traffic this year it is expected that the traffic squad of the police department will be augmented by two additional officers on Saturday nights.
In discussing the new regulations regarding motor vehicles, the superintendent
today stated that local motorists
will do well to avoid violations, especially the amendment to the law prohibiting the motorist from carrying a pistol or revolver in the pocket
of his automobile, even though such carrying may be perfectly legal on the part of the motorist, and even though the gun may never be removed from the car. It is there and under the control of the motorist, and he is liable for it. The motorist can be arrested and prosecuted just as much as the man who is picked up in the street with a gun in his pocket.

ANNUAL CHARITY BALL

Big Event for St. John's Hospital at Memorial Auditorium This Evening

Tonight at the Memorial Auditorium will be held the annual charity ball in aid of St. John's hospital, an institution that is doing noble work for the relief of sufferers in this community. Two years ago the capacity of the hospital was tripled and yet at times it is crowded in equipment. It is up to date in every particular except in the matter of a nurses' home; and hence the proceeds of the charity ball
will go to a fund to be used eventually for the construction of a nurses'
home so that St. John's will be as well equipped in this respect as any of the other local hospitals. It is expected, therefore, that there will be a very large attendance. The event, as usual, will be a grand social success. The doors will not open until 8 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained at the Auditorium box office. There will be a concert from 8 to 9 and general dancing from 9 to 1. The grand march will begin at 10 o'clock.
During intermission refreshments
will be served. Hugh J. Molloy is general manager of the ball, and Edward
P. Slattery, Jr., assistant general manager. Thomas Payne is floor director, and Charles J. Landers, chief aid. Jack Kerwin is chairman of the reception committee, and Miss Rose Dowd is treasurer.

Infantry, local unit of the 94th Division, will be at the Sun office tonight

cers, cooks and infantry specialists.

MAKING THINGS BRIGHTER

A crew of painters and cleaners have been engaged in remodeling the interior of the passenger station of the Boston & Maine railroad in this city for the past week. The waiting room, which is finished in quartered oak, has been cleaned, shelled and varnished, adding much to the appearance of the spacious room. The baggage room, and the offices of the officials, located at the station, will also be given a thorough cleaning.

INDOOR RIFLE SHOOT

The fourth in a series of indoor rifle shoots, between Company A of the 182nd regiment and the Company C Associates, formerly of the old Sixth regiment, will be held at the armory
Monday night. Capt. George D. Crowell of the Machine Gun company and several other members of the company were practicing with revolvers on the state ranges at Dracut yesterday.

VETERANS ELECT LOWELL DOCTOR

At the twenty-fourth annual encampment of the United Spanish War
Veterans held in Boston yesterday, Dr.
Clarence B. Livingston of this city was elected surgeon of the state department.

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY

By the end of another week the election commissioners hope to have the work of compiling the lists of assessed polls well along toward completion.
Already some of the completed work has been sent along to the assessors and this policy will be followed as rapidly as possible. With the present staff of temporary clerks at work next week's program will be much more rapid than this week, although by tomorrow noon it is expected the lists will be half done.

FELL FROM AUTOMOBILE

John Hewitt, aged 3, and residing at 25 Rogers street, had a narrow escape from serious injuries yesterday when he fell from an automobile in motion at the junction of Rogers and Merrill streets. The boy, so it is claimed, jumped on the running board of an automobile operated by George W. Spence of 23 Dracut st. and fell to the ground. He was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that his injuries were slight.

LEW PALUSO WINS

LAWRENCE, April 20.—Lew Paluso of Salt Lake City stopped Newport Johnny Brown in the ninth round here last night. Brown came into the ring with a sore right eye, and before the bout had gone half way the eye closed.
Paluso then won as he pleased. Referee Freeman halted action when he saw that Brown had no chance.

Man Who Walloped Felix

Balkus Gets Long Vacation

—Other Cases

Four months in the house of correction for assault and battery on Felix Balkus and an additional two months for drunkenness was the penalty imposed on Richard Lannon in the district court this morning when he was found guilty of both charges. Lannon was arrested last night by Officer
Thomas Maloney, who testified that
the defendant walked out of a pool
room in Central street and approached Balkus, deliberately struck him over the eye, inflicting a severe wound.
Balkus was present in the court room with a bandaged eye and corroborated the arresting officer's testimony.

Peter Spanos, who was arrested in an ice cream parlor at 47 East Merrimac street last night, yesterday afternoon was charged with illegal sale, was granted a continuance until May 5, bonds being fixed at $300. Homeo Teatremis pleaded guilty. His illegal keeping and paid a fine of $100.

John Simon, arrested with James A.
Lynch for receiving stolen property,
was continued to next Tuesday. According to the story told in the court
when the case was first called a few weeks ago, Lynch came to town with a watch, valued at $20, the property of Robert Jones.

De met Simon and entered into a deal whereby the watch changed hands, Lynch receiving a pint of liquor in return. He was later arrested for drunkenness and a charge of larceny then preferred against him. This brought Simon into the deal, charged with receiving stolen property and also with illegal sale.

A charge of larceny against William J. Dunn was continued until next Friday. He is charged with stealing an automobile, valued at $600, the property of Roland Lane.

An assault and battery charge against William Debarge was continued until April 28.

TRACK WALKING CASES ARE FILED

Walking on the railroad tracks of the N. Y. & N. H. railroad, on forbidden territory in the vicinity of the depot caused the arrest and appearance in the district court this morning of Samuel Sanborn, William Ingles, James Markey, Earl Houghtaling, James Doherty, Richard Wallis, John Higgins, William Dowd and Paul Cote. A special officer in the employ of the railroad testified that he warned the men repeatedly about walking on the tracks and when they persisted in disobeying orders, he was forced to have them summoned into court. On his recommendation, however, the court placed the cases on file
after giving the defendants to understand that failure to comply with the regulations in the future would mean
the imposition of a fine.

Lowell Women in Heart Balm Suit Wire Splicer Electrocutured In Manhole

SO. BOSTON MAN ELECTROCUTED MURDERED BY IN MANHOLE AT CENTRAL AND PRESCOTT STREETS

Charles Arviston, of South Boston, aged about 35 years and employed by McGonagle & Towne, electrical contractors of Boston as a splicer, died this afternoon while working in a Lowell Electric Light Co. manhole at Central and Prescott streets. Unconscious and apparently dead, he was pulled from the manhole by fellow workmen and, although at the end of more than half an hour's work of artificial respiration, he showed no signs of life. John A. Hinnelwell, company manager, refused to give up hope and continued the fight to bring life back into the man's body.

Arviston's hands were buried in the hole and one ear showed signs of a deep burn. Examination of wires in the manhole showed no loose ends and while it could not be said what contact caused the electric current to go through his body. Only wires carrying the usual distribution are in the manhole, none of which is of particularly high voltage.

Dr. Fitzroy Pillsbury and Mason D. Bryant both worked over the man as well as attaches of the ambulance. Afraid that an attempt to move him from the spot where he lay on the pavement would snuff out any spark of life that remained, the doctors were obliged to work over him in the middle of the street.

A hurry call was sent to St. Peter's rectory and Rev. Fr. Manion hastened to administer the final rites of the church.

Fellow-workmen of Arviston say he has been working at the electrical business for about six years and while he could not be considered an expert workman, he was a capable splicer's assistant.

Probe Gambling at Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 20.—The Anne Arundel county grand jury today is investigating to determine whether wholesale gambling and "bootlegging" liquor is rampant in Annapolis as pictured by Judge Robert Moss in his charge to the jury. Judge Moss referred to alleged conditions as "intolerable" and said they were unequalled in any other part of the country. Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent of the naval academy, has declined to enter into a discussion of reported conditions.

12 Earthquakes Every Day

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Earthquakes are no rarity in the earth's experience. An average of 12 of them in fact occur every day, according to a paper read by Dr. J. B. Woodworth before the American Geophysical Union. In the month of May, Dr. Woodworth said, there are an average of 27 earthquakes a day, while the average declines to a minimum in December. The study covered thousands of recorded earth shocks over a period of years, including a total of 6404 which occurred in 1907.

Slept in Auto—Asphyxiated by Gas

DULUTH, Minn., April 20.—Sleeping in his automobile in a garage at the rear of his home because he was estranged from his young wife, Alphonse Plisson was asphyxiated by monoxide gas. Plisson, according to two companions, entered the garage about 11 o'clock last night. The engine was still running when they returned today, and found his body. He had slept in the car for two months, police were told. Clothing and other necessities were found in the car.

KERNAN FINDS HIS GOAT

Native of the Himalayan Mountains is at the Fort

Hill Zoo Again

The high stepping, roof scaling Himalayan goat, the property of the Lowell park department, that escaped from the wire enclosure at the Fort Hill Park zoo yesterday morning, was captured at Golden Cove park in Chelmsford at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and an hour later was back in his browsing place, apparently contented to remain there forever.

The chances are, however, that Polley, so called because of his similarity to the human fly, will remain in his restricted area whether he wants to or not, for this afternoon additional

WATER DEPARTMENT PAYROLLS APPROVED

Mayor John J. Donovan and the budget and audit commission have approved new payrolls for the water works, figured on the former scale of wages. When the department's payroll was presented early this week it was objected to for increases for all laborers from $4.50 to $5.20 per day, but when the mayor refused to sign it a new roll was made out.

"Singing Fish Peddler of North Street, Boston," Stabbed to Death

Slayer Picked Up Knife Thrown Away by Brother and Made Attack

BOSTON, April 20.—Philip Rugnelli, the "singing fish peddler of North street," was stabbed to death today, in a quarrel with his brother, Girolamo. The men were at the Eastern Packet pier, buying fish for the day's business, when a difference developed and Philip drew a knife. He threatened Girolamo but threw the knife aside without attacking. Girolamo picked it up, bystanders said, the men came to grips, and Philip dropped dead.

a double murder at Braintree in 1920, was ordered committed to the Bridgewater state hospital for criminal in-

He is now in the Boston Psychopathic hospital, where he was taken after a

8 KILLED, 30 HURT IN CLASH

German Authorities Regain Control of Muelheim From Communists

Police Cut Through Lines of Besiegers and Caught Them
in the Rear

BERLIN, April 20. (By the Associated Press.)—Eight persons are so far reported dead and more than 30 wounded as a result of the disturbances in Muelheim, according to special despatches this noon which state that, although the city has been freed from the communist grip, armed bands are still causing trouble in the outskirts.

Thirty Leaders Arrested

MUELHEIM, April 20. (By the Associated Press.) After being terrorized for three days by communist mobs, Muelheim today was again under control of the constituted German authorities. The 300 police and city officials who had been besieged in the Rathaus issued from this great fortress-like building this morning, cut through the lines of the besiegers, caught them in the rear, arrested many and took control of the city.

Thirty leaders of the besiegers were arrested. One of them, a man named Korten, is said to have been the leader of the Kiel revolution in 1918. He resisted arrest and was wounded, probably fatally.

The casualties for the period of disorders so far as made up this morning, showed six dead and from 60 to 70 wounded, some of whom may die.

SOLDIER TRAMP AND WHAT HE DID

The following poem appeared in the old Vox Populi about 30 years ago and is published here by request of J. Walter Richardson as appropriate to Patriots day.

Scene—A City Police Court
 "Ter honor, I please guilty, I'm a bum;
 I don't deny the cop here found me drunk;
 I don't deny that through the whole, long summer
 The sun-warmed earth has been my only bunk.
 I hain't been able for to earn a livin';
 A man with one leg planted in the tomb
 Can't get a job—An' I've a strong mis-givin'
 'Bout bein' cooped up in a soldiers' home.
 "What did I lose my leg? At Spottsylvania—
 Perhaps you've read about that bloody fight;
 But then I guess the story won't strain you
 From doing what the law sets down as right.
 I'm not a vag through choice, but through misfortune,
 An' as far as drink—well, all men have their faults.
 An' judge, I guess I've had my lawful portion
 O' rough experience in prison vaults.
 "I served as private in the Tenth New Jersey,
 An' all the boys'll say I done what's right;
 That ain't a man can say that Abram Hursey
 War ever found a shirk in a fight. Right in the hell-born, frightful roar o' battle,
 When shot and shell shrieked through the darkness wood,
 Amid the blinding smoke an' musket's rattle,
 You always found me join' the best I could.
 "We had a brave ol' fellow for a colonel—
 We called him Sweetie, but his name was Sweet.
 Why, Judge, I swear it, by the Great Eternal!
 That brave ol' chap'd rather fight than eat.
 An' you could allow bat your bottom dollar
 In battle Sweetie'd never hunt a tree.
 He'd alius dash into the front and holler:
 'Brace up, my gallant boys, an' follow me!'
 "Well, just before the Spottsylvania battle,
 Of Sweetie cum to me an' says, says he:
 'I tell you, Abe, 'tain't many things'll rattle
 A tough old, weather-beaten cub like me;
 But in my very soul I've got a feelin'
 That I'm a-goin' to get a dose today.
 An' it ain't no use fur me to be concealin'
 The skittish thoughts that in my bosom play.
 "For many years you've been my neighbor, Hursey,
 An' I hev alius found you squar' an' true—
 Back in our little town in old New Jersey,
 No one has got a better name than you.
 An' now I want yer promise, squarly given,
 That if our cause today demands my life,
 An' you yourself are left among the livin',
 You'll take me back and lay me by my wife.
 "Well, Judge, that day, amidst the roar of battle,
 'Most desperate bloody fight I ever seed,
 Way up in front I saw the daring colonel
 Throw up his hands and tumble off his steed.
 In half a minute I was bendin' over him
 An' seeing that he wasn't killed out-right,
 I loaded him upon my back and bore him
 Some little distance back out of the fight.
 "The blood from out a ghastly wound was flowin',
 An' so I snatched the shirt from off my back,
 For I could see the brave ol' man war goin'
 To his unless I held that red tide back.
 An' purty soon I seed he was revivin',
 An' heerd him whisper: 'Abe, you've saved my life,
 Your ol' wood-shirt, along with your connivin',
 Has kept me from that grave beside my wife.'
 "Well, Judge, while I stood thar beside him, schemin'
 On how to get him in a doctor's care,
 A ten-pound shell toward us came a-screamin'
 Just like a ravin' demon in the air.
 An' 'twas it passed, I found myself a-crippin'
 Across ol' Sweetie's body, an' I see that 'farnal shell, that by us went a-flyin',
 Had tuk my leg along for company.
 "Well, Judge, that's all, 'cept when the war was over,
 I found myself a cripple, and since then
 I've been a sort of shiftless, worthless rover.
 But just as honest as the most of men,
 I never stole a dime from livin' mortal.
 Nor never harmed a woman, child or home—
 I've always been a bum, and hope the court'll be just as easy on me as it can."
 Then spoke the judge: "Such helpless, worthless creatures Should never be allowed to roam and rove."
 Your case, 'tis true, has some redeeming features,
 For in your country's cause you lost a leg.
 And yet I feel the world needs an example
 To check the tendency of men to roam.
 The sentence is, that all your life—your camp!
 Be the best room in my humble home."
 The judge started! Dumb! Silent as a statue!
 Then in a voice of trembling pathos, said:
 "Judge, turn your head an' give me one look at you—
 That face is like an echo from the dead."
 Then he laid his hand on my arm, an' said:
 "What's a-bowin' his sun-browned, old and poll,
 And lookin' atth' Sarge and pathos standin' by?
 "Why, Colonel Sweetie! Turn it, you brave ol' soul!"
 Don Santiago Carlin.

ing manner, carried the members of the battery back to the scenes of fighting days in France, which he recalled in an entertaining way. The colonel was well received by the diners, many of whom had traveled considerable distance to attend the affair.

Thomas O. Nickerson was elected president of the battery association at the annual election of officers, which followed the speaking. Other officers elected were, Randall Ques-ney, vice president, and John King, secretary. Treasurer Morse was re-elected. Charles Clowater was elected as assistant to the treasurer. Roland W. Black had charge of the reunion arrangements.

92 Oil Promoters Indicted

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 20.—Ninety-two oil promoters were indicted here today by the federal grand jury on charges of using the mails to defraud. The oil companies involved have taken in over $7,000,000 in cash, and into three of the companies were merged 458 companies which had sold $136,000,000 in stock, United States District Attorney Hendy Zweifel declared the investigation showed. Approximately 2,004,000 persons were stockholders in the merged companies and the companies named in the indictments.

Aviator to Carry Aid to Starving Persons

NORTHPORT, Mich., April 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Lieut. Meredith the aviator who last February flew across the state to Beaver Island to carry a doctor to Jess Cote, reported dying there will hop off today in a giant De Havilland army plane in a second attempt to carry aid to the nine men and one woman reported starving on South Fox island. The plane which left the field yesterday and crashed through the ice in attempting to land here, was abandoned last night after several efforts to remove it from the water had failed.

DUBLIN, April 20.—Con Meaney, one of the most prominent remaining leaders of the Irregulars, was arrested yesterday by a party of national army troops at Glencarduff, near Mills street, east of Killarney, it was announced today. This is considered one of the most important captures made in Cork county. Meaney participated in many of the ambushes against the British forces.

DEFEND EXECUTION

Four N. Y. Clergymen Defend Shooting of Vicar General Butchkavitch by Soviets

NEW YORK, April 20.—The outcry of protest against the execution by the Russian soviet government of Vicar-General Butchkavitch was characterized as a "colossal hypocrisy, inspired by political hatred" by four prominent New York clergymen whose statements in defense of the soviet action were made public today by the National Labor Alliance for Trade Relations With and Recognition of Russia.

The clergymen are Rev. Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community church; the Rev. John Howard Melish, rector of the "Protestant" Episcopal church of the Holy Trinity, Brooklyn; the Rev. Norman Thomas, Presbyterian, connected with the League for Industrial Democracy; and the Rev. Dr. Percy Sillkeny Grant, rector of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

"The vicar-general was executed not because he was a priest, but because he was a traitor," Mr. Holmes said, to which Mr. Melish added: "No church has a right to defend traitors."

PETER WILL BE MORE CAREFUL NEXT TIME

Fines of $75 for driving an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and $10 extra for operating without a license, were imposed on Peter Nicholas in the district court this morning as the result of an early morning crash at the corner of Central and Warren streets today. Nicholas, according to the story told the court, was driving down Central street about 6.45 o'clock this morning and going at a rapid rate of speed. At Warren street, a Geo sedan, driven by Miss Sophie Ober, 17, of "Towksbury," and having the right of way, attempted to turn in when Nicholas auto collided with it and caused an estimated damage of $100.

Miss Ober appeared on the witness stand and testified that she gave the proper signal when about to turn, but Nicholas failed to heed it and the speed of his machine made a collision inevitable. The defendant said he owned his car for about five weeks and had never applied for a license to operate.

BOSTON, April 20—Clarence H. De Mar of Melrose, victor in the American Marathon road race yesterday for the third time, was back at his printer's case today, with only a blistered heel as an admitted after effect of the long grind. The feat of being first to win the event in three years, and second to win it successfully in two years, both achievements coming 12 years after he had run home winner for the first time, did not leave this man of 35 years satisfied. He announced as he set type that his "running spree" was over until fall, but that he would begin light training for the American Marathon of next year, with a view especially to qualify for the American team that will run in the Olympic Marathon at Paris.

The first 4 finishers and their times: Clarence H. De Mar, Melrose, 2:17:15; Frank J. Juma, Millrose A. A., New York, 2:25:32; Willie Carlson, Svithold A. A., Chicago, 2:27:10; 4:53; Albert P. Nicholson, Cynaut A. C., Stamford, Conn., 2:28:27 2-3.

FAREWELL PARTY
Miss Mary McPherson, former sewing teacher at the Abraham Lincoln school, was tendered a farewell party at the home of one of her pupils, Miss Mildred Dudley, Kimball avenue, last Monday evening. An enjoyable time was had by all, the party breaking up at a late hour, all wishing the guest the best of luck in her new venture as a private teacher of sewing.

B'NAI BRITH HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of Lowell lodge, B'nei Brith, was held in Liberty hall last night with more than 300 members and friends of the association present to enjoy the dinner and to hear Rabbi Samuel Schulman of the Temple Bethel, New York.

The dinner was served at about 7 o'clock and consisted of choice foods nicely served. During the dinner, music was furnished by the Y.M.H.A. Junior orchestra, whose offerings were of the best and received most hearty applause from the large attendance. A period set aside for a social follow-up the dinner and gave the members of the lodge an opportunity to meet the guests and fellow members of the organization. Following this, President Benjamin S. Pouzner introduced the Rabbi Schulman who gave an address on the question, "Judaism Justified Itself?" Rabbi Schulman is an eloquent speaker and his subject was of the greatest interest to the members of the B'nei Brith and their guests as it covered topics of present day interest.

BROCADES FOR EVENING

"Golden and heavy with gold" are the summer evening wraps. Practically all of them are of brocade satins—some so heavily crusted with the design that it's hard to guess the original fabric.

One typically magnificent evening wrap is of heavy black satin brocade in red and gold, then lined with gold and red striped crepe.

For daytime wear wraps are soberer. Usually crepe is the material—silk crepe in one of the popular grays or tans of spring.

HIGH SCHOOL NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

The officers of the Lowell high school Natural Science club were announced today at the school and are as follows: President, Daniel C. Hanson; vice-president, Josephine E. Parks; secretary, Katherine B. Harrington; and treasurer, Edward B. Peters.

The next meeting of this club will be in May, and the final meeting of this season in June. At these meetings interesting papers will be read by the members and it is hoped that several prominent speakers will be obtained for each of the occasions.

The purpose of the club is mainly educational, spreading knowledge of natural science among the members, and getting them interested in it so that its study will be considered not as a pleasure but as work. There are about 1000 pupils who are studying science at the school and it is the purpose of the club to get started this spring so that in the fall activities may be resumed without the wasting of any time in preparation.

TO BROADCAST ADDRESS BY SENATOR WALSH

It will be of interest to local radio fans to know that an address to be given Saturday evening by Senator David I. Walsh will be broadcasted from the Medford Hillside broadcasting station.

IS OBLIGED TO FULFILL CONTRACT

Miss Mary Ann Dentler, who for the past few weeks has been pleasing the patrons of the Lowell Opera House as leading lady, was obliged to leave because of a contract made prior to the one with Al Luttinger. Miss Dentler would like to have remained with her friends here in Lowell for the remainder of the season, but contract for summer engagements are often made several seasons in advance and the one with the Poll Players in Hartford was such a contract.

It was hoped until the very last minute that Mr. Barhydt and Al Luttinger, himself, would make other arrangements with the Poll people so that Miss Dentler could remain, but it proved to be an impossibility. Miss Dentler leaves many friends here in Lowell and is looking forward to next season, at which time she will greet them again.

Mr. Luttinger has Miss Edith Stockton, a striking blonde, in Miss Dentler's place this week and announces that shortly a permanent new leading lady will make her appearance here for Lowell theatre-goers' approval.

NEW ENGLAND PORT DIFFERENTIAL CASE

At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce some time ago,
it was voted to send a representative to the hearing on the New England Port Differential case at Washington. The chamber has just received word that this hearing will be on May 22 and 23 and would like to have some member who is familiar with the freight situation in New England attend as their representative.

The hearing is of the utmost importance to New England because it the differential is changed to put Boston and other New England ports on an equal footing with Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, much more distance between many points in the middle west and Boston by rail is less than to New York, or any of the other middle Atlantic seaports.

The annual Camp Nabnasset reunion was held at the Y.M.C.A. encampment yesterday, with a large group of youngsters and camp leaders in attendance. Boys' director T. H. Williams had charge of the affair. Bus-ball games and hoisting were enjoyed by the campers.

In the evening the visitors to this camp returned to the association building on Merrimack street and sat down to an appetizing dinner. The camp will open for the 16th season July 5. Present indications are that the attendance will be greater than ever.

BURGLARS ACTIVE IN THE HIGHLANDS

Last Wednesday night it was reported to the police that burglars were active in the Highlands section of the city. Not less than eight homes were broken into during the evening when the occupants were at theatres or other places of amusement. Most of the thefts were in the vicinity of West-ford and Princeton streets. Officers detailed to the scene received the information that thorough work was done by the thieves in the majority of instances. A description of the burglars places them at about 17 years of age. It is probable that arrests will be effected soon.

BANQUET AND ENTERTAINMENT

A banquet and entertainment marked the annual ladies' night of the Barncikes of the First Baptist church Wednesday night. The affair was held in the vestry of the church and was very enjoyable. The principal speaker was Gardner W. Pearson, assistant district attorney for Middlesex county, who spoke on "Duty." The election of officers for the ensuing year took place with the following result: Frank Sprouner, president; Fred C. Hall, vice president; Thomas Brown, treasurer;
Frederick Campbell, secretary; Leon D.
Abbott, Harold Brown and Walter E.
Clement, executive board. The banquet was served by the Ladies' Benevolent society of the church.

There is an unmistakable evidence of the country's murkiness due to the lessening of confidence in the capacity, efficiency, expansiveness and even security of our government. The feeling is that the old political parties no longer entitle themselves of obligation to the common weal; that the old parties have not the intellectual and moral courage to face the realities of the day and seek a solution of the terrible problems of the hour.

SALE AND DEMONSTRATION OF WORKS OF BLIND

Anthony Martone, of Boston, who is totally blind, will give vocal selections in Liberty hall during the two-day exhibit, sale and demonstration of the works of the blind Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. This will be part of the musical program most of which will be given by blind men and women. To see a sighted person operating a typewriter machine is common, but to see a blind person using the same machine without any special device to make it more convenient to find the keys may seem quite a feat until it is explained that teaching the blind to do typewriting and stenographic operating is only one of the many branches in the division of the blind. Exhibition of typewriter operation by blind people will be given at the coming exhibit in Liberty hall.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
"Sweet Innisfallen" at the Lowell Opera House this week, with Bernard Daly, the famous Irish tenor. In the stellar role, has proven to be one of the most successful productions staged by the local company during the entire season. The play has a special appeal for those who love the romance and the scenic effects reproduced the country with "remarkable exactness." Critics in all parts of the country are unanimous in declaring that "Sweet Innisfallen" is much better than either of its well known predecessors, "The Wicklow Postman" or "The Irish Harp." Mr. Daly has a tenor voice of remarkable clarity and sweetness, and his peculiarly Irish quality makes him irresistible as a singer of the old, well beloved ballads. The local theatre management of the opera house will arrange a program of the highest possible type. The bill has been arranged to make it especially appropriate for those who like a different type of entertainment from the usual run of vaudeville seen during the week. Judith Hansen, the famous motion picture star, will tell in her own graphic way how she became a victim of the dope habit, and how, after a desperate and almost fatal struggle she succeeded in sending the dope demon down to defeat. Miss Hansen's struggle with a power that has proven too strong for so many modern theatrical people as well as countless others is told by her in an instructive and thrilling way. The rest of the program has been arranged by a management that knows how to obtain the best as well as the most novel, that is offered by the modern vaudeville stage.

H. E. KELTH'S THEATRE
The bill at the H. E. Kelth theatre is headed by the brightest act of the season, thus far—"A Dress Rehearsal." It is literally crammed with good lines, and more than that, it is a succession of situations of a sort to lift you right out of your seat. Don't miss this best of comedy plays of the season. Janet Fox, the comedy little playwoman, is playing mightily with her little act. She is aided by Charles Hamp. One gets a due idea of the delivery of this making in one sitting of the plot. Then there are O'Brien & Hale, who are first-rate comedy makers in every particular, and who lend much to the bill. Others who please are Howard & White, in "The Gaiety," Flaherty & Stening, in comedy, Daly & Berlew, splendid dancers, and M. Striker, contortionist.

THE STRAND
Miss Rhyne, star of many screen successes of the past appears in many of the roles which is being shown at The Strand during the week-end. She appears in the costume of June Cleopatra and Du Barry in the course of this interesting photoplay. See her, too, in "Three Who Paid," which is the other feature of merit. It's a great story of the west.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Only a few opportunities remain for Lowell people to see "Sonny," the great story of the World War, featuring the famous little playwoman, Janet Fox, the comedy little playwoman, is playing mightily with her little act. She is aided by Charles

"Sonny" surpassing any of his previous efforts in its great dramatic power. Coming next week beginning Monday, "Bella Donna," Pola Negri's first American-made photoplay.

RIALTO THEATRE
But two days remain in which to see "The Third Alarm," which has had a most successful engagement at the Rialto theatre all this week. It is an opportunity to witness one of the biggest and most spectacular of the season and don't miss it.

EAGLES HAVE PARTY AT THE KASINO

A social and entertainment was conducted last evening in the Kasino under the auspices of Lowell Aerie of Eagles and the affair was attended by over 700 men and women. The affair was in the form of a get-together and proved one of the big events conducted by the aerie this year. Charles T. Laird, of Boston, past worthy president of the Braconier aerie, was the guest of honor and he delivered ed a short address on the good of the order. The program also included a boxing exhibition by Thomas Falls and "Kid" Hooker, as well as musical numbers by Frank J. Lambert, John E. Davlin, P. Harold Ready, Joseph Wedge, Stephen A. Callahan, James Fella, George Rogers and Thomas Chinn. General dancing was enjoyed till a seasonable hour.

Asheville, N. C.WASHINGTON, April 20.—Whether criminal prosecutions by the federal government will follow its injunction suit filed in New York yesterday to protect the public against the speculative hoarding of sugar prices rests on the decision of Attorney General Daugherty.The attorney general who is now at Asheville, N. C., was said officially today to be considering whether he would ask the federal grand jury in New York for criminal indictments under the conspiracy provisions of the Sherman act, of defendants named in the injunction suit to prevent future or speculative trading on the New York sugar exchange.The government, it was said, probably would take still another line of attack in connection with its civil suit.
It is proposed to ask the court for an order to prevent settlement in specu-

representative of the architectural firm of Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore on the subject of trophy hall and the removal of the bronze plaque bearing the names of the building commission which now hangs there.The conference has been arranged for the purpose of ascertaining from the men who designed and supervised the erection of the building what place were in their minds relative to the placing of memorial tablets therein and to obtain their conception of the proper use of trophy hall.The conference is a result of the request of the American Legion that the bronze tablet be removed from trophy

of memorial tablets bearing the names of Lowell's heroic dead whose lives were snapped out in their country's might have been a serious train wreck when he discovered a loose wheel on one of the day coaches in his train this morning. The wheel was located by the conductor immediately after the train had come to a stop in the yard here. Railroad officials stated that if the loose wheel had not been located here, the chances were almost certain that there would have been a bad accident. This train is used by many Lowell people who commute from this city to their work in Boston.MAJOR TOOMEY APPRECIATIVE

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside
External treatments seldom cure
piles. Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation.The blood is stagnant, the veins
flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—
send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one

Girls' City Club Adds to Its Laurels at the Memorial Auditorium

Large Audience Pleased With Presentation of Greenwich Village Follies Revue

"The Jade Gong," a Greenwich Village Follies revue, was admirably presented at the Memorial Auditorium last night before a large audience by the Girls' City club. With a cast that numbered more than 100 girls and young men, colorful costumes, exceptionally fine lighting effects and competent direction, the production was one of the most presentable and wholly satisfying of its type ever attempted in the city.

The revue was presented in two parts, the first within a distinct Chinese atmosphere, and the second in Greenwich Village, with carnival frolics and any number of excellent specialties to add to the gaiety of the scene.

In its staging of the show the Girls' City club was ably assisted by Frederick W. Brydon and Russell Porter.

Wentworth of Boston and J. Langdon Matthews of New York. Mr. Brydon devised and designed the sets and with Mr. Matthews directed the entire production, while Mr. Matthews was a dancer of outstanding ability.

Principal characters as the audience met them were:

Prologue girl... Ruth Whelton
A voice in the Orient... Ruth Whelton
Spirit of Jose... J. Langdon Matthews
Hop Lee... Frederick W. Brydon
To-San... Madeline McLaughlin
Sing To... Alice Dacey Delmore
Cherry Blossom... Doris Conley
Balerio... Agatha Jester
Radio boy... Charles Clancy
Katy... Lena Dion
Jimmie... Jack McCardle
Mary Jane... Ethel Santos
Mrs. Gump... Alice G. Coyne
Mr. Gump... Charles J. Keyes
Baby Gump... James Howe
French Girl... Lucienne Belanger
Girl in the hat box... Doris Conley
Sunshine girl... Estelle Doman
Good girl... Sadie Melancon
Miss Synopation... Mabel Hogan
The Interior of a Buddhist temple was the setting for the first part of the production and before a grotesque statue of the great Chinese god, the action, without plot, added and carried and brought into the gleams of the spotlight many specialties that instantly found favor with the audience.

Prominent in this section of the show was Mrs. Alice Dacey Delmore, a local favorite, whose beautiful voice has been heard many times in amateur productions and who seems to gather fresh laurels on each subsequent appearance. As dainty as a Chinese flower, she sang three of the principal numbers, with "Glow Little Lantern of Love" her best accomplishment. Introduced Mr. Matthews to excellent advantage "Down in Chinatown" and "Dainty China Maid" were capably sung by Mr. Brydon. Lighting effects attained in the finale were particularly good. Club girls who appeared in the Chinese chorus were the Misses Annabelle Maughan, Kathleen Sullivan, Dorothy B. Bridger, Beatrice Hession, Mary M. Sully, Mary O'Brien and Ellen Mulharty. Solo dances by Miss Doris Conley and Miss Agatha Jester were beautiful and attractive features.

It was not difficult to catch the true Greenwich Village atmosphere in the second half of the show. The following added brilliant color to the setting: "Purple Peacock," Gertrude Corkery; "Scarlet Domino," Doris Fisher; "Spanish Maid," Cathryn O'Neill; "Castilian," Mabel I. Sullivan; "Pirates' Den," Mae Walsh; "Peacock," Helen Beady.

Vaudeville of the Follies type appeared in rapid and kaleidoscopic review as groups of chorus girls appeared in specialties and many excellent principles kept action going at a rapid pace. Mr. Wentworth was heard in several songs, one of which, "The World is Waiting For the Sunrise," gave his pleasing tenor voice an exceptional opportunity to be enjoyed by the audience. Again in this part, the Misses Conley and Jester danced prettily and the "Kiss Me By Wireles" number featured Charles Clancy as the dancing radio boy. One of the most enjoyed features of the show was the Bowery dance by Jack McCardle and Lena Dion, assisted by a pittoresque chorus of typical Bowery maidens.

Charles J. Keyes and Miss Alice G. Coyne, with James Howe as their "baby" were the principals in a humorous skit based on the results of a missed train. Most effective was "Sunshine" number, featuring Miss Estelle Doman and equally enjoyable was the work of Mr. Wentworth and Miss Sadie Melancon in "A Bad Boy and a Good Girl," assisted by a chorus of Quakers.

As a finale the entire cast was grouped on the stage and enthusiastic applause rang out as the curtains brought the show to a close. After the floor was cleared dancing was enjoyed.

Members of the Girls' club who were of great assistance in the several choruses, included the following:

Band Box girls: Anna Conway, Gladys Williams, Bertha Choquette, Madeline Burrows, Florence Seton and Helen Dorian.

Sunshine girls: Alice Lowney, Mary McCarthy, Annette Geoffroy, Stella Maughan, Eva Messier and Catherine Callery.

Mary Jane's Dolls: Edith Whouley, Emma Chire, Elmore LeBlanc, Pauline Lantagne, Margaret Mulharty, Evelyn Twombly, Mae Rooney and Margaret McCarthy.

Bowery Maidens: Mary Sullivan, Mary Givlan, Mary Manning, Isabelle Storey, Mae O'Neill, Josephine Manning, Mary Woods and Mildred Thomas.

Yankee Doodle girls: Elsie Clairo, Winnie Welch, Elizabeth O'Leary.

GREEN'S DRUG STORES, INC.

Make Remarkable Offer To Any Person in Lowell Who Is Weak, Sick, Nervous or Run-Down

It is Now Possible for You to Come to This Store. Get a Package Genuine Nuxated Iron, Use It for Two Weeks, and If at the End of That Time You Have Not Received All, and Even Greater Benefits Than You Expect, Simply Bring the Wrapper Back to Green's and We Will Cheerfully Hand You Back Your Money

Lowell people may well ask how we can afford to make this remarkable "Satisfaction or Money Back" offer. Medical examinations by physicians all over the country show that an amazing number of people lack 100% iron in their blood. At a recent conference, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (out door department) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said, "Without iron the blood becomes weak, thin, pale and watery. In many people this seriously weakens their vital organs as to lead them to believe that they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney disease, nerve force exhaustion, some other serious ailment. I have had people come to me thinking they had heart, sudden dizziness, faintness or spots before the eyes. In a great many of these cases, the moment iron was supplied, all of these symptoms disappeared." We make this offer because Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy, that we recommend that you come right to Green's Drug Store and get your bottle of Genuine Iron. Use it for two weeks, and note the improvement of your own case in strength, energy and endurance. If you are not more than surprised at the results, just bring back the wrapper, and we will promptly refund your money without question.—Adv.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EXCELLENT CONCERT BY ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY

The Lowell Orchestral Society, with Rudolph M. Schiller conducting, made its reappearance before the Lowell public Wednesday evening after a lapse of many years. In a concert of unusual merit that immediately won for it, in the hearts of the large audience in Colonial hall, the regard that previously was given to the old Orchestral Society.

The concert was, first and last, for the lover of music, and the program was one that called for exceptional ability on the part of every member, and showed plainly that the numbers had been well rehearsed. The first number was Haydn's Symphony No. 5, better known as the "Surprise" Symphony. Before the end of the second movement of this piece the members of the orchestra were in full swing and the Minuet, the third movement, was given in a way that plainly showed the members of the orchestra in full accord with the music and with the director.

The second number was Schubert's overture to "Rosamund." This selection is one of the best known of Schubert's many pieces and the rhythm was soon caught by the orchestra with the result that it was regarded the best of the whole evening's entertainment by the majority of the audience.

The third number was a ballet music from "The Nutcracker." The last number was Jean Sibelius' symphonic poem, "Finlandia." This was by far the most difficult piece attempted and its rendition would be creditable to an orchestra of many years' experience, rather than one making its first appearance before the public. The orchestra and Mr. Schiller were given most hearty applause at the close of this piece and the appreciation was well-deserved.

Miss Hazel Tobitt, a contralto of more than usual ability, was the soloist of the evening. She gave three numbers, "Mists," by Respighi; "The Last Hour," by Kramer, and "Spring Song of the Robin Woman," by Cadman. The last number, calling as it does for exceptional dramatic ability and a wide range, was undoubtedly the best, and at its close the members of the orchestra in full to satisfy the applause of the audience.

An instrumental trio composed of violin, Florence M. Crawford; violin-cello, Bernice M. Russell, and piano, Bernice M. Moulton, played Ganne's "Exaltation," and also a little waltz number.

The members of the orchestra are mostly recently recruited, but here and there could be seen a face familiar to patrons of the old Orchestral Society. Wednesday's performance, the first for many years, bespeaks a wonderful future for the orchestra as it fills a place long empty in the hearts of music lovers of Lowell, and if the same care is taken in coming performances as was taken in the first, there is no doubt whatever but what the society's future is assured.

PEOPLE DRIVEN FROM HOUSE BY SMOKE

The alarm from box 8 at 11:50 o'clock Wednesday night was for a partition fire in the tenement house numbered 7 Howe street, which is owned by H. W. Ordway. Because of the dense smoke that filled the house, the occupants of the building were forced to vacate. Several lines of hose were laid and in order to get at the blaze the firemen were forced to tear down partitions. The blaze was finally extinguished before it spread to the upper stories.

MISS McGRATH HONORED

Miss Sarah McGrath, of North Chelmsford, was the recipient of a shower at Marie's restaurant Wednesday evening given by about 75 of her girl friends. Miss McGrath is soon to become the bride of John Dunigan, of North Chelmsford, and the shower was of varied useful and ornamental gifts suitable for a bride-to-be. An excellent supper followed the shower and was in turn followed by an entertainment by members of the party and general dancing, which continued until a late hour when the party broke up after wishing Miss McGrath health, wealth and happiness in her married life.

which profiteering has been and is carried on in this country is dazzling and unbelievable. Profiteering, mercenary, relentless, undiscriminating of man or child, intrinsically in conflict with the spirit of humanity, has constituted and continues to constitute one of the chief causes of unrest in this country, and it is, in my opinion, one of the gravest living perils to our existence as a free nation. It is no respecter of ideals or of the enduring laws of God, but, resting upon a base of the most ignoble elements of man, is provocative of the worst instincts within him. He who crushes the poor and helpless defies the wrath of God as well as of nations.

Those who cry out for the Americanization of our foreigners can do as much for the safety of America when they realize the Americanization work most needed today is the Americanization of the greedy and selfish profiteers who are seeking our foreign elements to entertain disrespect for our institutions and furnishing the radicals with facts to justify the contentions that our government remains indifferent to the exploitations of its people by perverted high and absolutely artificial prices for the necessities of life and tolerating excessive profit-making. Though we do not agree with the radical and dangerous conclusions of the radicals we must frankly admit that in many instances they have named abuses and demonstrated that the government has given repeated evidence of its indifference toward remedying well known evils that we all know exist.

The tendency in the government to restrict individual liberty is another cause of unrest. Every governmental effort to restrain individual freedom that is not necessary to promote the public welfare is a movement away from democracy to autocracy. The tendency to regulate what we eat and drink, what we wear, our amusements, the size of the family, and the places of education of our children is undoubtedly a trend toward autocracy. Thomas Jefferson realized the dangers of our going too far in the restriction of individual liberty, when he expressed in a letter to Madison, "It is the tyranny of the legislature that I fear most in our government—it is our greatest danger."

Yet while we are condemning the tendency recently and in this country toward restricting individual liberty, we must not lose sight of the fact that there has been an increasing demand that the government concern itself about problems that heretofore have been considered beyond the domain of governmental control and influence. Whatever may be the cause of this new interest in or demand for action by the government—whether an aftermath of the war or an awakening of a new interest in the problems of government—it is, nevertheless, true that more is expected and demanded today by the people of their government than ever before. Especially has this been observable in England. The unemployment problem, 1,500,000 unemployed for months, has resulted in the establishment of the idle system by the government to take care of the unemployed. Housing and agriculture production of an entirely new character are pressing for solution. How serious is the housing problem in England may be inferred from the fact that three cabinet ministers went down to defeat in as many recent elections, the cause of the defeat in each case being admittedly the failure of the government to furnish a satisfactory plan for the relief of housing conditions.

Nearly all of the demands that are being made here that would check, if not remove entirely the present unrest, are pressing and deserving of our attention and adjustment. Indeed, stripped of all personal and political bias, we can subscribe to nearly all of them.

The masses, the thinking middle class, including that vast army of farmers, tailors, clerical and manual, professional and business people—in fact all outside the powerful group of big money and their supporters—are opposed to the various forms of waste that have developed as a result of our modern economic system, that are the chief causes of unrest today, and are demanding a solution. They are opposed to the waste of life and human possibilities by under-education. They are opposed to waste of health and industrial efficiency through bad housing and underfeeding. They are opposed to the waste of production through unemployment. They are opposed to waste such as we find when coal costs $3.00 at the mines and $19 when delivered to the consumer. They are opposed to the waste which gives the farmer 30 per cent of the cost of his product to the consumer, permitting 70 per cent to be absorbed in the payment of transportation and commissions by middle men. They are opposed to the waste in our economic system which is the result of paying more for transportation than for production. They are opposed to the waste in our economic system that permits private ownership to eliminate competition and establish monopolies to extort from their victims without limit. They are opposed to the waste of time in the legislative department of the government in dealing with the supremely urgent questions of the day. What are the old political parties doing about these problems? We know the present administration has done practically nothing, but have the old parties any programs? The truth is little or nothing is being done. These are very painful questions to political parties and public men and they prefer not to think about them. Of course the political "boss" will condemn the "lax" for not doing something, but what program or remedy do they present? For we are not now considering party success, but the abolition of unrest by the restoration of supreme confidence in our government. Do I exaggerate when I say that there never was a time when there was so little creative service in our present political leadership. Isn't this the political leadership of the great mass of our people? And isn't the reason for the spread and growth of radicalism, that radicalism that can and must be abated, that in a large measure to the conclusion of the people that so far as the old political parties are concerned their rights as members thereof have been largely reduced to the power of protest. The masses are swinging from one party to the other in each succeeding election simply casting votes of dissatisfaction against the government. How long can a government of and for the people survive and prosper when the people have only the power of protest and can declare for nothing definite and certain or inaugurate positive and needed reform.

Our people must be given the political instruments through which to express their convictions and these instruments must be so constructed as to remedy every wrong, secure every need, and reform and solve every problem. Once they know the facts and the arguments the sense of justice in their hearts can be trusted.

No better concrete example of the causes of unrest and the inefficiency and failures of our government to concern itself about the general welfare can be cited than the weak, vacillating and incompetent manner in which the coal situation has been handled. For months the suspension of the coal industry was permitted to continue without any apparent concern or interest on the part of the government, although it was evident in the spring of 1922 that unless there was a speedy resumption of operations a country-wide coal famine would result. Coal operators and dealers took advantage of the curtailment of production and have profited without check or restraint. Conditions went from bad to worse with the result that five months of curtailment of coal production left our people without coal to protect them against the rigors of New England winter. A strong voice and vigorous policy would have easily prevented the long-postponed settlement of this strike.

The pitiful feature of the coal famine was not that it occurred but the confessed ignorance, helplessness and impotence of our government to prevent it. Has it come to this—that a food famine may spread throughout the land because of difference between a few producers of food and their employees, and our people must starve and die without government intervention or action. Coal is scarcely one iota less essential to human life than food. Our industrial life threatened with stagnation and curtailment, our people without heat to protect them, this government of ours stood waiting for some miracle to bring about a peaceful solution.

Added to the famine was the further abuse of gouging our people by extortionate prices and unrestrained cheating, by selling to our people unburnable coal. It was bad enough to be frozen, but it was adding insult to injury to permit rank and barefaced deception and robbery to be practiced upon our people, and all this was either through the indirect connivance of our public officials or because of their downright cowardice. Do you wonder that the tone of our people was resentful, that they became angry and disgusted? Why? Because there wasn't in official Washington the courage to dictate to the coal barons of Pennsylvania and the striking miners; because our government had not insisted upon exacting from those monopolistic combines, producing the very essential of life that service to the public goes hand in hand with profit-making. The whole story is a painful admission and serious indictment of the efficiency and functioning of the government to foster and protect the welfare of the people.

The recent coal situation and the sentiment that it created among the people who have had to shiver and suffer during the past winter should have made our public officials realize what our people are thinking about and that they will attempt to get action.

But let us not be blind to the answer which an element among us shall make—that element that tries every protest against any injustice as foolish or radical, that element which complacently ignores the destiny of let well enough alone; the same question of profit or for some profit-seeking strategy would permit our people to sink into a state of political degradation or demoralization. "No government interference in business" is their slogan. It sounds well to the American lover of individual freedom. And it is a right slogan under certain conditions, but it goes too far in assuming that anyone wants to interfere in all business. It is only illegitimate business that needs government interference—the business controlling the needs of life and holding them for their own selfish, exorbitant gain, and the businesses which normal men want to regulate.

Private business when it interferes with the public weal ceases to be private business—it then becomes a public nuisance. These mismanaged and self-sufficient monopolies dealing in the very essentials of life, distract and poison the confidence of our people in their government and are as great a menace to honest business and efficient management of industry as to any other portion of the community.

Remedy for the Future
But what is the remedy that any socialist in restoring confidence and dispelling the encircling gloom of unrest. These immediate reforms should be inaugurated:

1. We should amend the constitution so as to provide for the convening of congress not later than January following the November congressional elections. This would prevent the waste of time of what is known as the "lame session" of congress and prevent the passage of undesirable laws by dissembling legislators.

2. Revise the rules of the senate so as to eliminate extraneous and needless debate, and change the rules of the house of representatives so that the right to vote shall not be denied the people's representatives. Today we have not representative government. Let our first concern be its restoration. It is action not indifference that is necessary when we see danger ahead if we are to avoid inevitable disaster. One of the besetting sins of our government today is its inaction. We talk, debate, postpone, delay, dilatorily—in fact, everything but vote and record decisions.

3. It is time for plain speaking: let the old political parties cease existing for the spoils of office but reorganizing for productive and creative ends in politics. Let them take up the primary questions in politics today. A bold treatment of the causes of unrest is imperative. A sane solution of the inequalities—social, political and economic under which capital and labor, the producer and the consumer are being oppressed must be evolved. With our parties vying with each other to protect the fundamental concession of our constitution, to defend against unrestricted capitalism and unbridled radicalism, with a sincerity of purpose unquestioned, and a devotion unending to the common weal; then will unrest, radicalism and all other un-Americanisms disappear just as the sunshine melts the winter's snow. We must not delay; we must not be half-hearted in the enactment of reform measures. All this can not be done suddenly, for with one blow we can not inaugurate a new spirit. It took years and a bloody war to undermine the old. If we refuse the call if we fail to shake off the lethargy and indifference of the old political order and systems I fear the civilization that we know and cherish will be rudely shaken.

4. In brief, the surest way I know to check the growing unrest in this country and to maintain an enthusiastic spirit of confidence in our institutions is to courageously defend the inalienable rights of that great silent class of American men and women who are the backbone of our free institutions, its chief defenders in the hour of danger against those who seek through governmental agencies and privileged legislation, to lessen and destroy their freedom. It is for the defense and protection of the rights of the silent millions who ask no favors, seek no privileges, but who merely want to be left alone in the enjoyment of their freedom—economic, political—that we must contend.

ANOTHER THANKFUL WOMAN

Not long ago a woman on Beacon St., East Boston, Mass., gave out a praiseworthy letter which appeared in newspapers. She mentioned how thankful she was for having been told about a contribution medicine known as Dr. True's Elixir.

Now another resident, Mrs. Rogers of 105 Falcon St., East Boston, writes: "I still have Dr. True's Elixir, for it surely benefits me. I have a good appetite and eat everything as good as I could not get along as well as I do now. If I did not take Dr. True's Elixir, I need feel any better than now since I took the Elixir."

In East Boston and everywhere else there are women, men and children who, also, can be made better in health by using Dr. True's Elixir, a doted by Family Lavative and Worm Expeller. A favorite laxative for over 25 years. 40—60c $1.20—Adv.

erty hall of the Memorial Auditorium and several hundred couples were present to enjoy dancing and the musical concert given by Mrs. Teresa Mahoney Donovan of Andover, and Dr. George L. Dwyer of Boston.

Senator David I. Walsh dropped in on the gathering during the course of the evening and was met by a committee consisting of clergy of St. Patrick's church and several prominent laymen. The senator spoke briefly to the assembly, being introduced by Rev. Dr. McGarry.

Dancing started at 8 o'clock and continued until midnight with but two short intervals, one for the vocal entertainment and the other for the serving of refreshments. The first intermission was at 9 o'clock when Mrs. Donovan, a soprano soloist, and Dr. Dwyer, a tenor, entertained with several songs, which were well received by the audience.

That the party was such a great success was due mainly to the work of the officers of the association, Miss Anne J. Devine, president; Miss Rosa Joyce, vice-president; Miss Annie Donovan, treasurer; and Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, secretary. On Wednesday using Dr. True's Elixir, a doted by Family Lavative and Worm Expeller. Charles J. Leahy as floor director, and numerous aids, all brothers of graduates of the academy.

It would seem that the St. Louis Browns would have gone the limit to get McInnis, with the condition of Slater still an uncertainty. For a time St. Louis bid for McInnis, then suddenly terminated negotiations.

When McInnis consented to be transferred to Cleveland, it is understood that the Boston club agreed to pay him a bonus of $5000 for three years. McInnis sought to get the bonus in a lump sum.

It was pointed out to him that such a plan was unnecessary to protect his interests, and that there was no chance of him getting away from the American League during that time.

FOR INTEREST IN THE RESERVE

Military Parade Precedes Mass Meeting at the Memorial Auditorium

Gen. Mark L. Hersey Principal Speaker in Favor of National Preparedness

The mass meeting held at the Memorial Auditorium Wednesday evening as a means of arousing public interest in the organized Reserve more than justified itself when fully 2000 men and women turned out to hear some things in relation to the war department's new scheme of national defense.

Although two of the speakers on the original program, Lieut. Gen. Robert

L. Bullard and Gen. Andre Brewster, were unable to keep their engagements and Senator David I. Walsh found it impossible to attend the meeting, nevertheless was most interesting.

Among those who did speak were Lieut. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, Col. A. J. Bolles, Dudley L. Page, Mayor John J. Donovan, Chaplain Gerrish of Lawrence, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers.

As a colorful feature, a parade of military and civilian organizations preceded the meeting and with flags flying and to the strains of martial music, led the way to the Auditorium.

Merrimack street was lined with people when the parade moved away from Monument square at 7:45 o'clock. At the head of the column was the general staff composed of Major Francis E. Toohy, C.A.C., chief marshal; Major Percy J. Wilson, chief of staff; Lieut. James E. O'Donoghue, adjutant; Lieut. Michael H. Harrington, quartermaster; and Major Dana Palmer, Capt. R. J. Moloney and Arthur Brown, aides.

Organizations in line included the 35th Artillery band, recently organized and equipped; the mounted colors with guard of honor, consolidated 11th company of Lawrence, Co. M, Machine gun, 182nd Infantry, Capt. George F. Howell commanding; Battery B, 102nd F.A., Capt. Fannett, commanding; members of the organized Reserve, United Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars and World War Associates and civilians.

One section of Battery B stationed on the summit of Fort Hill, fired salutes in honor of the visiting officers at 7:30 o'clock.

As the Auditorium was filling, the Artillery band, seated in the stage gallery, played an excellent program of march tunes and swung into "Marching Through Georgia" when "Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, commander of the Legion post, escorted 16 Civil war veterans to reserved seats in the front row.

Major Toohy, as presiding officer, announced a band selected to open the meeting. This was followed by invocation pronounced by Chaplain Gerrish of the 28th regiment.

Greetings from the city were brought by Mayor John J. Donovan and Major Toohy then presented "Uncle" Dudley L. Page, representing the G.A.R. and a member of the old 11th army corps of Civil war days. He brought back many interesting memories of his service in the arduous under Grant and made an earnest plea for straightforward American citizenship.

Chaplain Gerrish gave a vigorous talk on the plan of the Organized Reserve, assailed the type of man who takes the soldier's oath and pleaded with his audience not to be misled by the delusions of disarmament.

Major Toohy regretted the inability of Gen. Andre Brewster to attend, but felt Lowell was particularly fortunate in being privileged to hear Col. Albert J. Bolles, a veteran of two wars and now attached to the general staff at New England headquarters.

Col. Bolles gave an interesting outline of the present army plan, speaking particularly of the summer training camps, one of which will be held at Devens this year.

Brig. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, formerly in command at Camp Devens and commander of the 15th brigade in the St. Mihiel offensive was the next speaker. He spoke of the increasing numbers of "Red" sympathizers in the country and told of a recent meeting in New York where several thousands of them took an oath not to enlist in any military movement in behalf of the United States. He urged support of the organized Reserve as one of the important ones in the war department's organization.

Before concluding he explained that Lieut. General Robert L. Bullard was unable to be present at the meeting because of illness which confined him to New York.

Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the next speaker, advocated preparedness from a business standpoint. He emphasized the many good things summer training camps will accomplish and also spoke a word for the Reserve.

Because of the lateness of the hour and word that Senator David I. Walsh had just begun his address, at the requests of Columbus, the meeting was brought to a close.

BANQUET AT THE WASHINGTON CLUB

Brigadier General Hersey and other visiting military officers were the guests of the city at a banquet given in the Washington club prior to the parade and mass meeting Wednesday evening.

At the close of the dinner, General Hersey was called upon for a short address, but as he was to give a lengthy talk in the Auditorium the same evening he refrained from extending himself and merely complimented the men for their fine spirit in going into the reserve, and the officers for their work in enlisting others for the service.

Following General Hersey's talk, he and Mayor John J. Donovan retired to the reception hall where the local reserve men had an opportunity to meet them. Before the reception was completed it was time for the parade to start and guests and reservists made a forced march to city hall.

GOOD TEMPLARS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Merrimack Valley district lodge of Good Templars held its annual meeting at the Free church in Middlesex street yesterday with delegates present from Lowell, Methuen, Ballardvale, Haverhill, Amesbury and Newburyport. The delegates were guests of members of Gen. Fiske and Elmore lodges of this city and they were highly entertained.

In the forenoon a business session was held in the course of which a large class of candidates was initiated. At noon dinner was served and later another business session was held and officers were elected as follows: Bertha

The officers were installed by Daniel Poore of Ballardvale, representing the grand chief of empire.

Considerable business was transacted and it was voted to hold the next meeting in Lawrence, the date to be set later.

lined to the members, plans for the drive to procure the necessary funds to place the monument to the doughboys of the A.C.R. on the plot at the junction of Fletcher and Willie sts.

The monument, a memorial to the boys of the district, is a life-sized representation of the uniformed doughboy, standing on a pedestal 15 feet high. The land needed for the memorial has been given by the city. This will be graded and paved. The monument will be a memorial for the boys who made the supreme sacrifice, regardless of race or creed, this accounts in part, the action of the Broadway club, in starting the project. Plans were formed at the home coming celebration in 1919, but on account of unavoidable delays, it has been impossible to get this deserving cause underway.

Fifteen captains, each leading a team were selected at the meeting to procure the needed funds to erect the monument. The committee has already been pledged $1100, but $3000 more is needed. Each committee man authorized to solicit funds will wear an authorized button. In order to guard against possible fraud, Capt. Joseph H. Molloy, commander of the American Legion post, and Post Commander S. Curtis Garrity, who were present, prompted the club, the assistance of the American Legion post in the project. Commander Dodge of the disabled Veterans of the World War, also promised the co-operation of his organization.

The monument designed by John Pharr of this city, from ideas originating among the members of the club, is practically completed at the Lowell monumental works company. Treasurer Peter F. Brady will receive contributions, large and small.

The members of the finance committee are: Wm. R. Kiernan, Frank Richard, William A. Walsh, Jr., Timothy P. Sullivan and Daniel E. Martin. The press committee is represented by Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan and John M. Hogan.

"I am 72 years old, and much more vigorous and active than most men of my age. I know that my excellent condition is due to the fact that I take two or three doses of Wincarnis every day, because I never felt as well before I began taking it. I used to tire very quickly and suffer from wakefulness and had to bundle myself up whenever it was damp or drafty. But since I began taking Wincarnis I have had the energy and endurance of a middle-aged man, sleep soundly and withstand the severest of weather. I have noticed that Wincarnis keeps my appetite keen and that it strengthens my nerves and heart. If my fingers tremble and my heart flutters or I feel symptoms of depression or weakness, a dose of Wincarnis gives me relief within a few minutes."

strands of wire were placed as a barrier to future prowling.
It was some time between 8 and 9 a. m. yesterday that Polley decided to scale the zoo fence and mingle with the outside world. Although no human eye watched his getaway, it must have been dramatic. He's an antelope when it comes to jumping, and he cleared that fence just as easily as though it were his favorite crag in the dear old Himalayan peaks.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES CONQUERED OR MONEY BACK

For 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing my prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marshroot) for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money-back-if-dissatisfied plan.
Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffy eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or headache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 right away.
It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.
NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription No. 777 aided thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription in both liquid and tablet form at Fred Howard's, 137 Central street, A. W. Dow's drug store and all reliable pharmacists the country over.—Adv.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

knew. Supt. John W. Kernan spent all forenoon in a frantic but fruitless search and finally was forced to the conclusion that Polley had jumped right off the earth.

In the afternoon Supt. Kernan went to Golden Cove park, along with 50 or 70 other members of the Lowell Driving club, to aid in a clean-up campaign on the club's trotting oval. He just couldn't keep that goat out of his mind, however, although reluctantly admitting that someone had "got his goat" and probably would keep it.

It was somewhere in the vicinity of 6 o'clock that a strange object was seen browsing along the right of way of New York, New Haven & Hartford tracks that run past the park. "It's the goat," 65 voices cried in unison. "It's Kernan's goat," and it was.

When opposite the trotting park entrance Polley's eye caught sight of acres of fresh spring grass and turned in. It was the beginning of the end for the old boy and before long he realized it. Tom Braden and others found a large net in the grandstand and with the 50-odd Driving club members holding it out at full length Polley was maneuvered into the proper position. But Polley was not going to be caught so easily. A couple of trick jumps and he was out of range again.

Then followed a miniature Ashland to Boston marathon with the goat running the gauntlet ragged for more than half an hour. He showed more slides than Tandler and more felicitous than Leonard, but finally was overcome by strategy. Someone tossed him a tin can and as he was tearing off the label it was a cinch to wind the net around him. As long as he had the can he didn't seem to care and to keep peace in the family the can accompanied him back to the Fort Hill zoo.

It has been suggested that the goat knew where he was going and really had a purpose in breaking jail. He came to Lowell last Wednesday morning over the New Haven line from New York and there are those who declare he simply was following his own scent back toward Gotham and the zoological gardens that used to be his home.

A couple of ordinary goats and a pair of month-old kids, just released from winter quarters in the park department stables, today were taken to the zoo and with them for company it is expected Polley will hang around home most of the time hereafter.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 1

Jack Daw had walked miles and miles through the beautiful woods. At least it seemed that far. For his little legs were very tired and now and then he would have to stop and catch his sides because his legs ached when shooting through them. But, on he trudged, with Flip, his faithful dog, at his heels.

Now and then a friendly little squirrel would scamper across the roadway in front of Jack. Flip always made a dash for the furry-tailed animals, only to be called back by his master, as the squirrel hopped up into the high branches of a tree and squeaked fine challenges in high-pitched chatter.

So interested was Jack in these animals and in the great trees and brightly colored leaves and bushes, that he didn't realize how deep into the woods he was wandering. He had just flicked a pile of leaves into the air when he noticed an old man, just ahead of him, sitting on a time-worn log. (Continued.)

FIRST WOMAN CITY HEAD CARD AND PENCIL SPOILS BOOSTS TOWN TO WORLD MANY GOOD GOLFERS

BY N.E.A. Service
PORTLAND, Ore., April 20.—A woman has come out to sell a city to the world.

The woman is Mrs. R. E. Barrett, of Seaside, Ore., and the city—Warrenton, a short dozen miles away on the Pacific coast.

Can she do it? Well—Mrs. Barrett has been appointed city manager of Warrenton—the first woman city manager in the United States. The city commission chose her from a list of 29 eligibles, and the choice was unanimous. They have confidence in her ability because of her past successes.

MRS. R. E. BARRETT

For example, she it was who accomplished the diverting of Montana wheat through the Columbia river gateway. Formerly the wheat had been sent east. Mrs. Barrett addressed farmers' meetings, succeeded in getting wheat lands and induced railroads to lower their freight rates so that the new thousands of bushels are sent to the Columbia's mouth yearly.

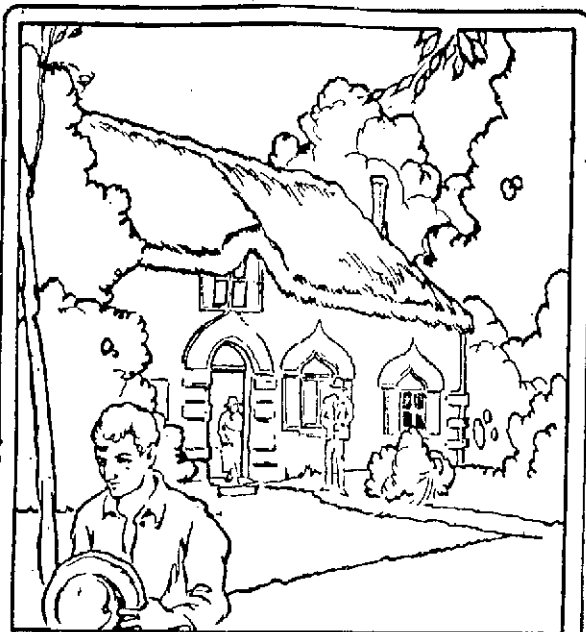

Besides being influenced by this achievement of Mrs. Barrett, the Warrenton commission also remembered the good work done by its woman mayor, Miss Clara C. Monson. She voided the argument against women in politics, or as civic leaders.

Now this city of 2000 is waiting for further development under Mrs. Barrett. And she's confident she can do it. "I am sure Warrenton has a great future," she says. "You know salesmanship is my forte. Now, if I can sell Warrenton to the world—why, won't that be fine? Surely we can gain for the little city the reputation of being a nice, happy place where everyone gets along and where all the people like each other."

THE MOTORCYCLE SQUAD LOWELL BOY IS TENTH IN BIG MARATHON RACE

Probable Personnel of Motorcycle Squad Announced by Superintendent Atkinson

The probable personnel of the motorcycle squad of the local police department, which will resume operations
next Sunday, was announced by Superintendent Atkinson this morning, and will consist of six officers, as follows: Charles Hamilton, Walter Kivian, Andrew Hamilton, Bernard Judge, Frank Murphy and Daniel Lynch. All of these men have members of the squad last summer.
The squad will be divided into two sections, four officers to be detailed to day
duty and two to night. Besides regulating traffic, their duties will include watching for grass fires and all other matters pertaining to police protection.
With the anticipated increase in automobile traffic this year, it is expected that the traffic squad of the police department will be augmented by two additional officers on Saturday nights.
In discussing the new regulations regarding motor vehicles, the superintendent
today stated that local motorists
will do well to avoid violations, especially the amendment to a present law prohibiting the motorist from carrying a pistol or revolver in the pocket
of his automobile, even though such carrying may be perfectly innocent on the part of the motorist, and even though the gun may never be removed from the car. It is there and under the control of the motorist. The motorist can be arrested and prosecuted just as much as the man who is plucked up in the street with a gun in his pocket.

ANNUAL CHARITY BALL Big Event for St. John's Hospital at Memorial Auditorium This Even- ing

Tonight at the Memorial Auditorium will be held the annual charity ball in aid of St. John's hospital, an institution that is doing noble work for the relief of sufferers in this community. Two years ago the capacity of the hospital was increased and it is now equipped in every particular except in the matter of a nurses' home; and
hence the proceeds of the charity ball
will go to a fund to be used eventually for the construction of a nurses'
home so that St. John's will be as well equipped in this respect as any of the other local hospitals. It is expected, therefore, that there will be a very large attendance. The event,
as usual, will be a great social success. The doors will not open until 8 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained at the Auditorium box office. There will be a concert from 8 to 9 and general
dancing from 9 to 1. The grand march will begin at 10 o'clock.
During intermission refreshments
will be served. Hugh J. Molloy is general manager of the ball, and Edward
F. Flattery, Jr., assistant general manager. Thomas Pyno is floor director, and Charles J. Landers, chief aid. Jas.
J. Kerwin is chairman of the reception committee, and Miss Rosa Dowd
is treasurer.

trict court this morning when he was found guilty of both charges. Lannon
was arrested last night by Officer
Thomas Maloney, who testified that
the defendant walked out of a pool
room in Central street and approach-

on a charge of illegal sale, was given a continuance until May 5, bonds being fixed at $200. Romeo Deslamps pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and paid
a fine of $100.
John Simon, arrested with James A.
Lynch for receiving stolen property,
was continued to next Tuesday. According to the story told in the court
when the case was first called a few

TRACK WALKING CASES ARE FILED

Walking on the railroad tracks of the N. Y., N. H. and H. railroad, on forbidden territory in the vicinity of the depot caused the arrest and appearance in the district court this
morning of Samuel Sanborn, William Ingalls, James Markey, Earl Houghtaling, James Doherty, Richard Wallis, John Higgins, William Dowd and Paul Cote. A special officer in the employ of the railroad testified that he saw the men repeatedly when they were walking on the tracks and when they persisted in disobeying orders, he was forced to have them summoned into court. On his recommendation, however, the court placed the cases on file
after giving the defendants to understand that failure to comply with the regulations in the future would mean
